National Anniversary.

Monday was the high-water mark of Fourth of July celebration. At sunrise the bells of Ocean Grove announced the entrance of the birthday of America's Independence. At the same time a National salute was fired in Thompson park by General Patterson. The public services were held in the Auditorium at 10:30 o'clock when an elaborate program was presented.

Rev. E. H. Stokes, D. D., introduced the Hon. James L. Hays, ex-Senator of New Jersey and President of the State Board of education, who presided over the meeting. Mr. Hays made a short address of welcome, in closing which he said: "There are two things to which I always take off my hat. One is the American flag, that magnificent symbol of liberty, and the other is the man who fought for its preservation. I am especially glad," he said, turning to the members of the C. K. Hall Post No. 41, G. A. R., who were seated on the platform, "to see these old soldiers in the front, a position they have held at other times with highest honor."

Rev. Peter Stryker, D. D., of Asbury Park, made the opening prayer, after which the choir sang "Pease's National Song." Mr. Hays then introduced Prof. John Enright of Freehold, Superintendent of Education of Monmouth county, who, preparatory to reading the Declaration of Independence, said: "The author of this immortal document, Thomas Jefferson, did not call it a declaration of Independence, but a Declaration of the People. It is more, it is the Code of Principles of the People."

Hon. James L. Hays.

After the choir had sung the "Star-Spangled Banner," during which the Auditorium was a sea of waving flags and handkerchiefs, Mr. Hays rose to introduce the orator of the day, Hon. Edward C. Stokes of Millville, N. J., City Superintendent of Schools and Senator from Cumberland County. Senator Hays in his introductory remarks paid a glowing tribute to Senator Stokes' private and public life, citing as an instance of his public spirit, his conspicuously bold protest against the Race-Track Combine.

Senator Stokes, during the delivery of his oration, was continually interrupted by vigorous applause. He said in part:

"Ocean Grove gives one a great idea of the greatness of American institutions. When you consider the fact that at this summer capital there gather representatives from all parts of the land, whose acres are nearly as large as Europe, and all of these waving their handkerchiefs in salutations to a single flag, the imagination begins to picture the wide range of our Republic, and when to this fact you add the thought that all over this land forty-six States, each a sovereignty in itself, are celebrating the birth of this Union, you realize that the most honored title in the world is that of American citizen.

"I am not now emphasizing the bigness of the territory of these United States. Territory never made a nation. Territorial dominion is not a feature of American institutions. This Nation was begotten of the people, whose hearts were larger than the country and whose aim were not confined to self. It was not the olive groves for which the Greek fought at Marathon and Salamis, but for the civilization of which he was the type. It was not the apple orchards and cornfields and lands our forefathers had in mind at Lexington and Concord and Bunker Hill. It was liberty, justice and equal rights for which they pledged their lives, their fortune and their sacred honor. This was the genesis of our Nation; these the ideas which enshrined its cornerstone; these the self-evident truths upon which its superstructure was laid. And when we do refer to our broad domain, which has grown from a mere seaboard line to a continent's expanse, we refer to it not as a growth of territory, but as typical of the triumphant march of those ideas and institutions which over a century ago were planted upon these bleak Atlantic shores.

"This, indeed, is a fitting place to celebrate the Fourth of July. New Jersey played a noteworthy part in the struggle for independence. For a time she was the central battle-ground for the 13 struggling colonies. Her Morristown furnished winter quarters for the Continental troops; her Trenton, her Princeton and her Monmouth—sacred to the memory of her Molly Pitcher—are perpetual reminders of the spirit of '76. No wonder that John Adams, thrilling under the heroism and courage of those days, should have declared that the Fourth of July would become a National epoch in America, that through all the gloom he could see the rays of light and the triumph of posterity.

"That posterity pauses to-day in its progress to pay its tribute of respect to the past. It is fitting that we should do this. We owe much to the past. We learn from the past. We receive our independence from the past. The past, indeed, is a part of the present. Every Englishman, as he rode the other day in the Queen's Jubilee, knew that forty centuries were looking down upon him, and we, upon this occasion, remember that Plymouth Rock, and Jamestown, and Valley Forge are looking down upon us, prompting us to deeds of noble emulation.

"What is the great lesson of the past? Our forefathers established a government entirely different from any that had existed previously. Former republics had been republics of the liberty of the few—of the classes, rather than of the masses. Our Government was based upon popular liberty. All men were declared free and equal. 'We, the people,' says the preamble to our Constitution, 'do ordain and establish this Constitution.' The State was thus made the creation of the people. It derived its just powers from the consent of the governed. This was the Republic conceived by our forefathers; this the Republic that was vindicated at Appomattox, and this the Republic for which Abraham Lincoln pleaded when he prayed at Gettysburg that "government by the people might not perish from the earth." The people are the foundation of our institutions. Upon them we must rely, and it is time we had gotten back to this landmark of our history and taken our bearings accordingly.

"I mention this fact because of the growing tendency to mistrust popular government. We are told that such a government is an absurdity, and that it will eventually terminate in the rule of a dictator or the rule of a mob. But every Fourth of July that rolls around is an unanswerable witness against such a dire prediction. I have absolute faith in government by the people. Government rests upon righteousness, virtue and wisdom, and the tribunal of the masses dispenses more charity, less of selfishness, more patriotism, more of fairness than any tribunal ever devised by man. In the long run, everybody is nearer right than anybody.

"In the dark hours of his administration Abraham Lincoln was continually writing letters to the common people, talking with them, consulting with them, ascertaining their views, and it was to them to whom he looked for advice, and it was they who sustained him in the hour of his trial.

"The people always mean to be right. No man, relatively speaking, goes to the ballot box with the deliberate intention of voting for what he himself believes to be wrong, and when you fill the ballot boxes of the Nation with good intentions they become a bulwark of safety to our institutions.

"This country has never appealed to the people in vain upon any great question. The people were right upon the question of slavery. It was the individual here and there, the men in high places, who were the time-servers and cowards in that hour, and it was the popular impulse from behind that pushed them on to action. The hearts of the masses always beat in sympathy with the slave. How grandly they rallied to his defence! The world watched that struggle in a cynical mood. The end, they told us, had come. 'You have no strong central authority, you have no disciplined army to enforce peace'; and yet while they were spanking these words of despair the patriot could hear the tramp of the boys marching out of the ranks of the common people. Two million men hastened to the rescue of this Nation.

"Rome found one Cincinnatus at the plough. America in the hour of danger found a Cincinnatus at every plough, a citizen soldier at every home. These citizen-soldiers saved the Nation. They emancipated 3,000,000 of slaves, and when their work was done they quietly dispersed and took up the peaceful occupations of life as if war had never called them away. They did more. With a magnanimity unparallelled they readmitted the seceding States into full partnership in the Union upon equal privileges with themselves, and to-day peace between the living is as sacredly kept as that which dwells among the heroic dead. Now, you critics of popular government, show me a single instance in all the statecraft of recorded time that in exhibition of self-control, in evidence of unselfish patriotism, in exemplification of Christian manhood, compares with this chapter from our own history.

"A few years ago we had a disputed presidential election in this country in which the votes of all the seceding States with but few exceptions were cast for one candidate. We heard talk of bloodshed, threats of revolution and one distinguished citizen declared his intention of leading 100,000 men to Washington to see that his favored candidate was inaugurated. You remember the result of that spirited controversy. A tribunal arbitration was formed and to its decree, even the disappointed voter yielded loyal if not cheerful obedience. The genius of the people for self government had triumphed over another danger.

"Last fall, we heard talk of anarchy, threats of revolution, charges against the Supreme Court, agitation against capital, demagogic appeals arraying class against class, and apparently six millions and a half of the voters of this country sympathized with that presentation of the issues and yet election over, they all abide by the verdict of a slender majority, as though that verdict expressed the will of Omnipotence. Again the people's respect for law had trimpled and not a sword had been drawn to enforce it.

"I have faith in this government of the people, not only because of its demonstrated ability to successfully cope with every crisis, but because of the great service it has rendered humanity. What is the object of government, if not to develop true manhood? Pericles said, "A great nation makes great men." And what development in any other country compares with that of our own? Washington, Jefferson, Adams, Webster, Clay, Seward, Chase, Lincoln, Garfield, Grant—what hundred and twenty-one years of England, of Germany, of France, or Italy, or any other nation shine with such a constellation? Whence came these men? Out of the ranks of the common people. A tanner of Galena, a railsplitter of Illinois, a boy of the towpath! No one so lowly in this country but that he can reach the highest position in its gift. This is a Republic of merit and not of ancestry. Europe has her cathedrals, castles and ruins. America has men.

"And we have men in this country because we have given them individual liberty. That is the right of each one to do as he pleases so long as he pleases to do right. We were the first to adopt the principle that the individual belongs to himself and not to the State. Europe has not learned that lesson yet. She still regards the individual in a sense as the property of the Government, and she takes some of the best years of his life and compels him to serve the State in a military capacity until the Old World to-day is a standing army of nearly four million men, simply waiting for to-morrow's carnage. Little Switzerland alone, that you could lay down three times in the State of Pennsylvania, has a standing army of 135,000 men; while this country, nearly as large as Europe, has a police army of only twenty-five thousand. What a magnificent contrast! Here we have peace, without the pestilence of arms. While Europe is training her youths in the art of destruction, America is training hers in the duties of citizenship. Over one-fifth of our population—15,000,000 boys and girls—are to-day enrolled upon the roster of our public schools. This is the standing army of our Republic!

"And this devotion to peaceful pursuits has enabled us to teach the nations of the world a lesson in progress. We have three States to-day any one of which is larger in wealth, in population, in number of churches and schools, than were the thirteen colonies at the time of the Declaration. Europe to-day is pow-wowing over the settlement between Turkey and Greece. The single State of Indiana alone could buy Greece and all her possessions, and give her back her Independence disentrammelled. Our internal trade is worth one and a half times the total foreign commerce of the world. We are the first Nation in wealth, first in public credit, first in payment of debt, first in manufactures, first in agriculture, first in mining, first in the number and usefulness of inventions, first in liberality with which we treat our surviving veterans and their surviving widows and orphans, and first in religious liberty; and all these achievements have been wrought in the very babyhood of our National existence, for America is a baby in age as compared with other nations of the earth, and yet she has outstripped them in the race of progress. Still some people despair of this Republic.

They tell us that the land is filled with discontent, that the people are restless and dissatisfied. Well, so be it! That's a good sign. The American people are always dissatisfied. It is to the credit of the American citizen that he is never satisfied with anything he has; that he always wants something better. That's a National trait. That is what makes us a great people. Discontent is the source of progress. It pushes us on to higher achievement. Galileo, insisting that the world moves, was an apostle of discontent. Columbus, before the Court of Spain arguing that the world was round was an apostle of discontent. Martin Luther before the Diet of Worms was an apostle of discontent. Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Patrick Henry, our forefathers all, were apostles of discontent. If they had been satisfied with their conditions, with their treatment by the mother country, there would have been no Declaration, no United States of America, no Fourth of July. This Republic itself is the offspring of discontent. Discontent may be dangerous in a monarchy, where there is no appeal from the king, except in separation or independence, but in a Republic like ours, where grievances can be redressed at the ballot, discontent is but the step for reformation. The very frankness with which we discuss our evils is an element of safety. "Evil cannot long withstand the public discernment, which uncovers and shames it." Robbery and fraud and bribery exist among us. These are parts of the ills inherent in human nature. They are not the fault of the Government. They will continue to exist until human nature is perfect. Popular suffrage sometimes becomes a farce. Government by the people degenerates into a government by the boss, until we sometimes need a second declaration of independence. These abuses of government, however, arise from the neglect of the people to rule and not from the incapacity to rule, and they exist just so long as the people consent, to be misruled."

"The racetrack power flourished while people slept, but when they rose in their majesty and might they hurled it from authority as though it was a mere toy or a plaything. "It was the conscience of the people" says an eminent writer, that thrust Tweed out of power, and it is the conscience of the people that will thrust out his successors in city State and Nation."

You can trust the people to successfully meet the dangers of the present and the future, as they have successfully coped with those of the past. I like to look on the bright side of things. If amid the gloom of despair of 1776 John Adams could see the rays of light, surely we, in this latter day of civilization, can see the rising glory of a new dawn. Fellow-citizens, this is the celebration of the Fourth of July, a day that spells Liberty to the oppressed, hope to the downtrodden, and proclaims wherever the flag bears witness that government by the people has not perished from the earth. We have great problems before us—the problems of humanity. Here upon our soil, is to be worked out the final destiny of the human race. Here civilization dies or lives. Religion and education alone can prepare us for this great responsibility. We want a people honest, manly and intelligent. We want men "high-minded men, men who know their duty and their rights, and knowing, dare maintain." We want sun-crowned men, "who live above the fog in public duty and private thinking." These constitute a State. Our country is strong in the loyal hearts of the people.

"Columbia! What art thou now!
A crown of stars on nature's brow,
With fields of gold and teeming marts,
With seventy million loving hearts,
Who cling to thee from sea to sea
To guard thy peace and liberty."

The Assembly Course of Study.

The books for the various courses of study in the different Assembly classes have been ordered and can be procured of Mr. W. H. Stokes, Superintendent of the Auditorium.

The Normal class will be taught again this year by Prof. W. A. Hutchison, M. A., and the text book will be "Sunday School Science," by Mr. R. S. Holmes. The E. H. Stokes' "Gold Medal," generously furnished by Judge E. T. Lovatt, will be given again this year for the best examination paper presented in this class.

In the Post graduate class, taught by Dr. Loomis, the text book to be "Studies in Old Testament History," by Rev. J. L. Hurlbutt, D. D., which will form the basis of a series of lesson lectures to be given daily in Thornley Chapel at 10 o'clock a. m.

Among all the spiritual guests that cross our threshold Jesus is not only incomparably the best by the excellence of His divinity, but also the most intimate by the presence of the same divinity.

If any one receive Him into his soul, Jesus comes to have a place of His own that has no parallel in life, and which has no proof save in experience. While the public come and go through the house in the busy daytime this guest Keeps His room, but in the quiet hours He sits with us. We make Him the confidant of our secrets, but in the end He tells us things about ourselves we have not known. We turn to Him for help, but find that He has promised what we were about to ask. We declare a good intention, only to remember that it was His suggestion. His presence is an irresistible condemnation of wrong-doing, a perpetual inspiration of well-doing.—John Watson.

The Nation's Sabbath.

There was a large attendance at all the services on Sunday last. In Jane's Tabernacle Rev. J. R. Daniels held an exceptionally interesting and beneficial session of the Holiness meeting at 9 a. m., and at the same hour Rev. C. H. Yatman conducted in the Temple the Young People's meeting, which proved to be one of more than ordinary power. Mr. Yatman urged everyone to feel at home stating that "these meetings belong just as much to those persons who attend for the first time as to those who have been coming to them for the past fifteen years. They are your meetings," he said, "and they are entirely informal."

One very pretty feature of the service was the singing of "Nearer my God to Thee" to the tune of "Robin Adaire." Mr. Eugene S. Willis sang with considerable expression the hymn entitled "I will go wherever you want me to go, dear Lord," and Mrs. Eriedman sang, "Jesus, the mighty to save."

Mr. Yatman then introduced Mr. William G. Sprigg of the Young Men's Christian Association at Cape Town, Africa, who was spending his first Sunday in America at Ocean Grove.

In opening his remarks Mr. Sprigg said: "It is not every one who is privileged to have his wishes gratified or to realize his dreams. I couldn't understand why your leader, Mr. Yatman, was so anxious to get back to America when there was such a great work to be done in Africa. But I can readily understand now why he could not stay away longer." Mr. Sprigg told of a young man who once when asked to direct a stranger to the Young Men's Christian Association building in Melbourne, and after having done so the stranger asked him if he could tell him the way to heaven. The youth's reply to this was John 14, 6: "Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by me."

"The lad," continued Mr. Spriggs, "had the true knowledge of the road, for the way to heaven is through Christ."

More than five thousand people attended the services at 10:30 a. m. in the Auditorium, and many ministers and prominent laymen were noticed upon the platform, among whom were: Rev. A. J. Kynett, D. D.; Rev. T. Harrison, Evangelist; Rev. T. D. Sleeper, Rev. Edwin Waters, Rev. H. C. McBride, Rev. W. T. Smith, D. D., of Iowa; Dr. Terry, of Wilmington; Hon. Holmes W. Murphy, Leonard Chandler and Judge Davis of Jersey City; George C. Stokes and Frank Cookman of Germantown; James S. Harris, Philadelphia; W. T. Reaves of New York; E. R. Fuller and William King of Summit, N. J.; Prof. Kirkpatrick and Freeborn G. Smith of Brooklyn; Mr. T. G. Hensey of Washington; Col. Evans of the Salvation Army and Prof. Nittinger.

Rev. E. H. Stokes, D. D., who has been quite ill during the past week, had sufficiently recovered, although far from well, to enable him to be present, presided as usual. Rev. A. J. Kynett, D. D., of Philadelphia made the opening prayer, and Rev. J. H. Alday of Ocean Grove read the lessons for the day, the first being Psalm 2 and the second, from John 14.

Dr. Stokes in introducing Bishop John E. Newman, who preached the morning sermon, announced that the Bishop was the chief of sacred orators, and said that it was both pleasant and profitable that once in seven years the Fourth of July, the National Anniversary of American Independence, should come on Sunday, inasmuch as it tended to bring the church and the nation into closer fellowship.

Bishop Newman in opening his address said: "I thank my honored friend for paving the way for the discourse which is to follow, but I feel that I must not encroach upon the prerogatives belonging to the chosen orators of the morrow."

The theme of the Bishop's sermon was "Victory," and his text was taken from John 16, 33: "These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulations; but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world."

"These," said the Bishop, "are the closing words of the Saviour's valedictory to his disciples. The Master in the shadow of the cross, when both Jew and Roman were conspiring to put him to an ignominious death. In the face of seeming defeat rises this pean of victory: 'I have overcome the world.' And what is this victory the Saviour has declared, 'I have overcome the world?' He intimates to us the wonderful victory over self.

"Self-abrogation is at once the most difficult and sublime achievement of the human mind. Self-abrogation is of two kinds, the lower and the higher. The higher is the abandonment of the accomplishment of some great purpose for the hope of a truer motive. The lower is the abandonment of one's self to the accomplishment of a great purpose regardless of the motives which impel it.

"Self-abrogation is indispensible to every vocation of life, but it may spring from the basest motives of which the human mind is capable.

"The statesman is consecrated to the advancement of the country's glory. So also is it with the Philanthropist. And yet either of these may be prompted by other motives than the glory of God, country and fellow man. The hope to have his name enlogized, to be decorated and honored, may be the underlying motive, but Christ overcame all these, for he overcame the world.

"Is there not something higher, stronger and better than success?" asked Bishop Newman. "Duty," he declares, "is a higher standard. Duty to the Master, Duty to one's self.

In the face of seeming defeat, for had they not taunted him, saying: "he saved others, himself he cannot save." Seeming defeat? What greater victory could there have been?

"Many go down to the grave and the world remarks: 'His life was a failure.' Many there are who are unknown and misunderstood. Husband by wife, wife by husband, child by parent and parent by child; a sad state of life, but no failure. There can be no failure where duty is done."

In speaking of wealth and prosperity, he said: "The Bible teaches respect for property and the property owner. It was not money that Christ condemned, but the love of it. It is that inordinate desire for wealth and the goods of this world that the Master taught us to overcome. The Almighty never despised the pauper nor did he despise the millionaire." The Bishop urged the clergy to teach their people the difference between money and the love of it.

"The master," he said, "could say He had overcome not only the love of money, but the love of applause, for he knew how uncertain was the world's applause. He knew that the 'Hosanna' of to-day would change to the 'Crucify Him' of the morrow.

"Young men," said the Bishop, "allow one who has seen much of life to tell you that that which is truly good is truly great; and that which is truly great is truly good. You are concerned about being a member of the Methodist Church. I am proud of my membership, but I am more concerned about being a member of the Church of God. For years we have been singing 'Nearer my God to Thee,' and each day we are drawing nearer and nearer to Him who died to save us.

"There was a supreme moment in the life of Christ. It was the glorious end. 'It is finished,' that was the cry of victory, I have overcome the world.

"There is a supreme moment in every life. In the life of Christopher Columbus it must have been, after pleading, he having obtained royal support and after exposure, hardship and anxiety of uncertainty, when he saw the first ray of light of San Salvador. Cyrus Field risked his all for his belief in his work. When was the supreme moment in his life? When the first message from the Queen to the President flashed across the submarine cable. And so with others. But what will be the supreme moment in the Christian's life? The first moment in Heaven I think; and the Bishop in a beautifully painted word picture carried his listeners within the gates, until many felt they had seen those who are waiting for them and many eyes were wet with tears.

"But," said the Bishop, "be of good cheer, I have overcome the world."

SUNDAY SCHOOL SERVICES.

Dr. Hanlon's Bible class met in the Auditorium in the afternoon, the main school in the Tabernacle, and Professor Schadt held his school of methods in the Temple. At Dr. Hanlon's class Rev. J. R. Daniels opened the meeting, and the Rev. W. Edwin Waters of the New Jersey Conference offered the opening prayer. The lesson for the day was "First Converts in Europe," Acts 16, 6-15.

The first verse, "Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia," provoked a lively discussion between Dr. Hanlon and Dr. A. J. Kynett, whom he asked to express his opinion upon what was meant by "forbidden of the Holy Ghost." "When you try to determine what is super-natural," said Dr. Kynett, "you must first determine what is natural." Again he said, "Why should the Holy Ghost forbid them to preach in Asia? Was that a miracle? I think not. I think it but a very clear impression of a sense of duty—not that they were not to preach in Asia, but that they were to preach somewhere else." Dr. Hanlon could not agree with this, but took almost an opposite view of the case. He argued that there was no danger of fanaticism to-day, but rather a danger of skepticism.

During the meeting there was a strong plea for a return of the old-time revival meetings.

BEACH MEETING.

At six o'clock the Beach services drew a large number of people to the ocean end of Ocean Pathway. Rev. J. R. Daniels presided, and among the speakers were Dr. Adam Wallace, Mr. Bromley of Brooklyn, Rev. T. D. Sleeper, Rev. T. E. Clayton and Mr. Fuller of Ocean Grove, and Rev. James Robertson, superintendent of the Rescue Mission, in Paterson, N. J.

EVENING SERVICE.

Dr. Stokes presided over the evening services in the Auditorium, which were attended by about three thousand people. Col. Evans of the Salvation Army made the opening prayer and Rev. William T. Smith of Iowa preached the sermon. His theme was "A Universal Saviour" and his text was taken from First John 4, 14: "And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world."

"The best authorities," said the Doctor in opening his discourse, "tell us that fourteen billion of people inhabit our earth. It would be impossible for the human mind to appreciate this vast number, and yet Jesus Christ by the grace of God found death to save everyone. The atonement of Jesus Christ," he continued, "went back to Abel and through all ages has been successful. This work is so successful that we are skeptical about it. If we turn to the Old Testament it is full of proofs that God so loved the world that it was his purpose to save the world. So also throughout the New Testament this

A Splendid Oration.

When the summer programme of the Ocean Grove Auditorium was issued it promised wonderful attractions and innumerable golden opportunities. Certainly the promise regarding the National Anniversary of American Independance on Monday last was more than fulfilled. No better opportunity for receiving instruction of a most beneficial character in a thoroughly interesting and enjoyable manner could have been provided.

Two master pieces of thought were presented to the enthusiastic audience. One, "The Declaration of Independence," from the pen of probably America's greatest statesman, certainly one of the builders of the nation, Thomas Jefferson. The other, the oration of the day, the subject of which was "The People the Safeguard of American Institutions," was from the fertile brain of one of New Jersey's brightest and most eloquent Senators, a man who has scarcely lived half of man's alloted years and yet has won the respect of his fellow men and the honors of his state, a man who, as his oration proves has a massive brain, a kind heart and a clear and active conscience. Senator Stokes displayed a wonderful knowledge of his fellow man in general and his fellow countryman in particular. There are two documents which every American citizen should commit to memory.—The Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States and to these two we would add a third—Senator Stokes' oration.

The oration was complete, not one word could have been added or omitted without lessening its effect. As was said by ex-Senator Hays when he introduced Senator Stokes—"It is seldom one is fortunate enough to secure the right man for the right place. We have the right man for the orator of the day." And the had.

Some Good Fruit.

In the course of his evangelistic work Mr. Yatman receives many letters expressive of changes in thought and feeling among his hearers, brought about by his effective methods of presenting Christian truths and Christian duty. The following is one of these interesting communications:

OCEAN GROVE, June 29, 1897.

Mr. Yatman:—

Please pardon me for writing this letter to you, but God only knows the prayers I have had in my heart for you since the beginning of last summer. My whole life has been changed. I belonged to the church since I was very young, but, like all the rest of my young friends, thought it no harm to go out into the pleasure of this world. One morning last summer you said something about the church people going to balls and parties, and God's convicting spirit reached me. I could not get what you said away from me and I said: "Dear Lord, if it is wrong for me to go to these things show me and I will give all up for thee." That morning I went home and opened my Bible to the 12th chapter of Romans, and said: "With God's help I give up all for thee," and the joy and peace that came the world could never give me. If I had done what God would have me do I should have told you last summer in testimony or by note, as it might help someone else. Last winter was the best I ever spent serving and praising God. He opened the way where I would be led when I was willing to serve him with my whole heart and not on husks. His grace is sufficient for me. I would not have strength to tell you five words of this. You do not know half the good you do, and will not know until you receive your reward at last in heaven. May God bless you and strengthen you for the summer work is my prayer for Jesus' sake. Amen. L. O.

There is no such time for a mother's impressive display of her love and tenderness toward her child as in the child's earliest years of his life. The recollection of a mother's prayers often has a hold upon him which he neither can nor would break away from.

The National Sabbath.

same idea prevails. The Son of Man is come to save that which is lost. The Son of man indicates that He belongs to the world. This morning we heard a wonderful eulogy upon Washington: but Washington is only our national hero; he belongs to this country. Jesus belongs to the world."

"This is our national holiday and possibly 5,000 men are thinking to-night about their orations for the morrow, but then it only belongs to this country. No other nation takes any interest in it. But the 25th of December belongs to the entire human race.

"This glorious old banner," said the Doctor, pointing to the American flag which hung from the ceiling above his head, "spreads its protecting stars and stripes over the millions of American people, but only over the Americans, while the Banner of the Cross belongs to all. "I am proud of being an American, but I am far more proud of being a Christian. "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." "Whosoever—that includes everyone. God intends the salvation of the whole world."

"Lord I believe that were sinners more
Than sands upon the ocean shore,
Thou hast for all a ransom paid,
For all a full atonement made."

"Some people would have us believe that Christianity was retrograding, but I declare unto you that it is my honest conviction that this is the best day the world has ever known and that to-morrow will be better than to-day.

"It was but as yesterday that Judson went to India. A short time after his arrival he said to his wife: 'We are the Church of God in India.' A skeptic in America wrote to him, asking in a sneering tone what the promises were. Judson wrote back, 'As bright as the promises of God always are.' And to-day where is the greatest Methodist Church in the world? In Calcutta, India."

In closing Dr. Smith said, "what we need is enthusiasm, and what greater cause for enthusiasm than the rescue of a fallen world."

Rev. C. H. Yatman closed the service with an appeal to the people to thank God for the many benefits He had bestowed upon them, and called upon them to separate themselves from national and personal sin.

A Prize for Miss Morgan.

The Scranton, Pa., Truth, one of the leading dailies of the State, offered prizes to children for the best short article. One of the successful contestants was Edith Morgan, the 11-year old daughter of Prof. Tallie Morgan, who was awarded one of the prizes for the following:

CARNIVAL ON THE WATER.

Written for the Scranton Truth.

The most beautiful sight that I ever witnessed was the carnival on Wesley Lake, Ocean Grove, N. J.

The morning dawned dark and stormy and all through the day it seemed as if our carnival would be postponed until some other time, but the committee went right on with their preparations just as if they knew it was going to be a pleasant evening. Well, it was. Trains began to arrive early in the day, bringing thousands of people, and we did not know where all were going to stand to witness the display.

They were crowded on each side of the lake as closely as they could get, and no one could think of walking along the lake for they had to stand just where they were. There are two bridges spanning Wesley Lake, and at each bridge was a band, which played beautiful music all through the evening.

Three platforms had been erected in the lake, one at each end and one about in the centre. On the platform at the head of the lake was a cannon, and standing by its side was a young lady representing Mollie Pitcher. On the centre platform were three little girls standing under a great umbrella, from the top of which came a constant stream of water, which, sprayed among the colored lights, making a most beautiful picture. On the remaining platform nearest the Ocean was a fine representation of Liberty Enlightening the World. Soon after dark the multitudes assembled on the bank of the lake, while the lawns and piazzas on each side were crowded. Boats darted there and here like balls of fire all decorated with Chinese lantern. Some were formed in the shape of a bee-hive and others like ships. There were a great many more designs too numerous to mention. At 9 o'clock the procession started down the lake. It came along like a fiery serpent amid the cheers of spectators and the roar of cannon. After the procession had gone around the lake two or three times, the fireworks were set off, and they were grand.

At 11 o'clock everything was over. After the most delightful Fourth of July I ever spent. Then the people started to rush for the trains to get home. They all thought they could get away on the first train, but it was five o'clock the next morning before all could be accommodated and taken away. That closed the great day, and I am living in hope that I may see it this year again.

EDITH MORGAN.

Effective Preaching.

Dr. A. A. Willits of Spring Lake is attending some of the "Chautauqua's" in Kansas and Missouri. He preached to an immense throng at Winfield, Kas., last Sabbath, and this is what the Daily Courier of Winfield has to say about him:

"Vast crowds were here Sunday. Excursion trains brought loads of people, and the three sermons were delivered to great multitudes. A. A. Willits, the 75-year-old apostle of sunshine, who possesses all the vigor and cheeriness of youth, gave an inspiring sermon on how we may serve our generations, physically, mentally and morally. The same spirit which has won him his national sobriquet 'Sunshine' breathed in every sentence of his sermon.

For half a century he has been a preacher of the gospel. For thirty years he was a Philadelphia pastor, and has subsequently held excellent pastorates at Brooklyn, Louisville and Dayton. For forty years he has been lecturing and has won a reputation in every state of the Union as the apostle of sunshine. He long ago learned the secret of a happy life and has shared his secret with the public, dispelling more gloom and inspiring more cheerful heroism than any other lecturer on the platform. Although seventy-five years old he is hale and hearty, his voice is clear as a bell and his face beams, the sunshine he has preached about so much. His text was, 'David, After he had Served his Generation, Fell Asleep.' The last part of the text was treated briefly. All must fall asleep; there is no discharge from life's army. But this thought should bring only solemnity, not gloom. Our chief concern is the serving of our generation. We should render service useful to them, acceptable to God and honorable to ourselves. Gratitude to the past should manifest itself by service to the future. He dwelt on the triple development, physical, mental and moral. We should ascertain the will of God and do it. We are the light of the word, the salt of the earth. We should love our neighbors as ourselves, having an enlightened love of self. Dr. Willits complimented the modern Chautauqua assembly in contrast with the old camp-meetings, which appealed to the emotions alone instead of attending to culture of head as well as heart. He alluded to the cigarette as 'that devil's combination of opium and tobacco.' The sermon was clear and healthy and made the hearers better."

Ocean Grove Anniversary, 1897.

Ocean Grove, be saints commended,
Here to God our sires gave praise;
Nine and twenty years have ended
Since they did the Cross upraise.

On the barren, sandy seashore,
They have nurtured fruits of grace;
Saved full many a bark on leeshore,
Steered it to a heavenly place.

Made these trees resche gladly
Shouts or triumph over sin:
Cheered the faithful, and prayed sadly
For the lost they could not win.

Here have old and young found treasure,
In the paths of peace have trod—
Peace indeed, that knows no measure,
Paths that lead us up to God.

Ocean Grove, by saints defended,
May still richer blessings come,
And when all our years are ended
Wait us to our heavenly home.

The Power of Love.

Jesus Christ puts holy fire into the emotions, and heightens and sanctifies them, and makes love, which the world regards as a weakness, and often handles so as to make it sin—as the basis of all goodness, and the productive soil in which everything that is of good report shall grow. The fire kindles men's hearts. Think what a strange, new thing when Christ came into the world it was for men to love God. Judaism had very partially grasped the idea. The holiest of the Psalmists had had glimpses of it, but for the nation at large there was no emotion in their religion, no warmth of feeling in their prayers, no love to God in their hearts. Christ came, and everything was different; and men poured out the treasures of their hearts like water at his feet, and felt that he, and he only, was the adequate object of all their emotions, and that all were glorified and ennobled when they were fixed on him. Religion is worth nothing unless it is warm. There is nothing more irrational than that people should do, as a great many of us do,—believe in a way the truths of Christianity, and feel next door to nothing about them. Its truths are so solemn, so certain, so tremendous, that not to be stirred to the very depths of our being by them, and yet to believe them, or say we do, is sheer insanity. Some of you will remember that in the original preface to the Christian Year, a book about which I would speak with all admiration, the writer commits himself to the statements that "next to a sound creed there is nothing of so much importance as a sober standard of feeling in matters of practical religion." Well! I do not know. It seems to me that "a sober standard of feeling" is only a fine name for what Jesus Christ designated as "neither cold, nor hot," and that, instead of sober feeling, what we want is the burning enthusiasm, of which one sees so little in Christians round about one; and feels so little in one's own heart. Oh! brethren, not to be all aflame is madness, if we believe our own creed.—Rev. Dr. Alex. Maclaren.

A Great Paper.

"The New York Evening Post," now in the 97th year, is making a greater feature of its news columns than ever before, supplementing the Associated Press despatches by telegraphic news from all over the country.

Besides the editorial page, the brilliancy of which attracts universal attention throughout the United States, the financial pages command the admiration of all its business readers, for no paper is more reliable, accurate, or complete in giving all quotations and recording the movements of all markets. This department also has a special daily London cable.

All the current news, and that of sports, bicycling, golf, the churches, the suburbs of New York, the National Guard, the colleges, art, drama, etc., etc.

If you read the Saturday "Evening Post" once you will read it again.

COMMUNICATION.

CATSKILL, N. Y., June 30, 1897.

Glory be to God!

This city is shaken by the power of the Holy Ghost, and scores were at the altar on Sunday last.

Tent meetings work gloriously in reaching the dear souls who do not go to church to hear the Gospel.

My soul cries: "Send out the Sunlight" to perishing men and women. We had a fine sermon from Dr. Hazzard, Presbyterian, on Monday evening, who gave the finest personal experience I ever listened to. In my soul I wish the world could have heard it.

I ask fathers and children to pray for Catskill, that it be saved.

Men in the mills are so convicted they can scarce attend to business, and my soul cries "Lord send power that gives repentance."

Yours in Him,

MRS. M. N. VAN CORT.

Unique Services.

Both the services on the nights of July 25th, and August 16, by Mr. Yatman will be unique and original. Never given before by any one anywhere. Admission to the "songs in the night" in August is by ticket only, but free. They will be given out ten days before hand.

The Rev. Dr. Weddell of Philadelphia, and Rev. Grant Tullar have helped Mr. Yatman both in song and address at his young peoples' meetings, both of them with delight to the audience.

Mr. Charles Farraday is the chief usher this year in the Temple meetings.

Rev. C. H. Yatman has already accepted invitations to hold meetings this coming winter in Newburgh, N. Y., Albion, Mich., Wilkes-Barre, Pa. and Courtland, N. Y.

Spiritual Strength.

Spiritual strength is a divine gift, but it is bestowed in accordance with God's established laws, one of which is: "They that wait on the Lord shall renew their strength." The more a man prays, the mightier will he be in his prayer; the more he reads the Bible, the more knowledge will he have of the will of God; the oftener he does this in remembrance of Christ, the sweeter will be his communion; the longer he teaches, the more skillful will he become. Those who would be strong workers and worshippers must wait on the Lord in work and worship.

Wanted—A Vocalist.

Young lady wanted who is capable of singing solos in a church, and who has had experience in leading a choir. Position at the seashore for July and August. Address, VOCALIST, Box 815, Ocean Grove.—*adv.*tf

Reception to Bishop Newman on His First Charge.

Bishop Newman graduated from Cazenovia Seminary at the Commencement of 1847, and immediately after was appointed by the presiding elder preacher in charge of the Cardiff circuit, which includes four preaching appointments, one of which was South Onondaga. One of those who graduated from the seminary at the same time with him was the Rev. Dwight Williams, and among the friends with whom he became intimately acquainted during his ministry on the Cardiff circuit was the Rev. Thomas Harroun, now a prominent member of the Wyoming Conference, who was a native of South Onondaga. Some time ago the thought came to the bishop that he would like to make a tour of his first charge in company with these two old friends.

Accordingly Bishop Newman and his wife and Brothers Williams and Harroun drove on Thursday last from Cazenovia to South Onondaga, calling at Cardiff by the way. At South Onondaga the beautiful church had been prepared for a suitable reception to the bishop. It was finely decorated, and in the Sunday-school room arrangements were made for a most hospitable banquet. When the little party arrived between five and six o'clock on Thursday afternoon, the church was crowded with people from all over the southern part of Onondaga county. There was also present a large tally-ho party that had driven from Syracuse. About an hour and a half was devoted to handshaking and the renewal of old acquaintance, and then the guests of the day, including the visitors from Syracuse and survivors of those who were the bishop's parishioners, surrounded the bountiful tables.

After supper the multitude again assembled in the church, the Rev. T. B. Green, D. D., presiding elder of the Syracuse district, in the chair. The Rev. D. Fisher gracefully welcomed the bishop on behalf of the charge and Dr. Green extended a hearty welcome on the part of the Syracuse district. The bishop being introduced expressed his pleasure at the very hearty welcome that had been extended to him, and the evident prosperity of the charge. He said that when he was appointed to the circuit it was his first pastorate, though he did not join conference until the following year.

The bishop in a most familiar and unassuming manner told the story of his coming in the Onondaga country, of his impressions, his deterquinations, his friends and helpers and his work. He referred lovingly to some of the staunch and loyal people of that day in the Cardiff and South Onondaga churches, the Spencers, the Seeleys, the Hotchkisses, "Father" Newman, in whose family he was received as a member, Abel Amidon and Volney King. It was Volney King, who took pity on the young man, obliged to walk a nine-mile circuit and speak at four services, and he raised by subscription the price of a horse for the young preacher. "The horse had short legs," said the preacher, "and I had long legs consequently I could either walk or ride at will without dismounting." Mounted on that first horse of his the bishop did a good deal of studying as they jogged along, and only the other day he was reminded of the time by discovering on the pages of one of his old Greek books the print of rain drops mingled with dust. The salary for a year's service was $100; and," said the bishop, with impressive earnestness, "you owe me $5 of that money yet! Yes, this church owes me $5 with 50 years' interest." This produced a tumult of laughter and applause.

The bishop proceeded to speak eloquently of the elements of success, among which he enumerated consecration, purity, system, constant dependance on God, hard work and a determination to win.

In speaking of the personal fidelity which he had practiced as a pastor, he spoke of the personal interviews which led to the conversion of Chief Justice Chase.

By special request he also related the religious experience of General Grant.

We have heard Bishop Newman preach his grandest and most eloquent sermons, and deliver some of his most elaborate and instructive lectures; but he never appeared to finer advantage than in his modest, heartfelt, tender and wonderful interesting address on this occasion.

At the Bishop's request several songs were sung by the Rev. Thomas Harroun and the Rev. Dwight Williams, both of whom also related interesting reminiscences. Mrs. Newman kindly responded to an urgent request from many that they might hear a few words from her, and made a little gem of a speech which he introduced with the remark that though she did not wish to pose as the new woman, she had for many years been following the new man (New man), and she expressed her most grateful appreciation of the kind welcome that had been extended to her noble husband and herself.

The bishop requested that all those present who used to hear him preach fifty years ago should rise, and about thirty stood up, the most of whom were only children during the bishop's pastorate.

The occasion was throughout intensely interesting and was almost ideal in its heartiness and its informality. It was the greatest event in the history of South Onondaga, and it will be a beautiful memory throughout future years to all who were so fortunate as to be present.—Northern Christian Advocate.

Don't Worry Over What May Never Come.

Abraham Lincoln, when asked what he should do if such a thing happened, said: "I never cross a bridge until I come to it." The Boston Journal, speaking of nervous prostration, says it is seldom the result of present trouble, or work, but of work and trouble anticipated. Mental exhaustion comes to those who look ahead and climb mountains before they arrive at them. Resolutely build a wall about to-day and live within its enclosure. The past may have been hard, sad, or wrong; it is over. The future may be like the past, but the woman who worries about it may not live to meet it—if she does she will bear it. The only thing with which she should concern herself is to-day—its sunshine, its air, its friends, its pleasures, its wholesome work, and perhaps its necessary sorrow. "As thy day, so shall thy strength be." "Commit thyself each coming day unto the Lord," then go about its work, whatever that may be, trusting in Him for strength and comfort and fitness.

"One day at a time! every heart that aches
Knows only too well how long that can seem,
But it's never to-day which the spirit breaks,
It's the darkened future without a gleam."

—Presbyterian Journal.

Asbury Park Auditorium.

The initial services of the Asbury Park Auditorium's summer season were held on Sunday last. The meetings at this place of worship are conducted under the auspices of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Asbury Park and under the direction of its pastor, Rev. George J. Mingins, D.D.

Nearly two thousand people gathered on Sunday morning to hear the Rev. S. Parks Cadman, the well-known pastor of the Metropolitan Temple, New York. Dr. Parks selected as the subject of his sermon "Elijah," and he handled his topic in both a masterly and interesting manner. The musical portion of the service was under the direction of Prof. D. C. Richards, of New York, and was rendered by the members of the Westminster Church choir and an orchestra of six pieces. Miss Mamie Salter, of Trenton, who has a delightful soprano voice, was the soloist at the morning service.

The attractiveness of the national service which was held in the afternoon at 4 o'clock was greatly enhanced by the musical program which preceded the address. National and patriotic music predominated, but the climax of patriotism was reached in the address on "American Citizenship" delivered by Rev. Carlos Martyn, D.D., the celebrated traveler, author and lecturer. In opening his discourse Dr. Martyn said: "It is our proud and happy privilege to live in the land of Uncle Sam. A land abounding with churches, abounding with school houses, as firm for righteousness as the granite beneath her soil."

In speaking of the government of the nation by the common people he cited a story of Lincoln, who was pointed to one day and made the object of the remark: "There goes Lincoln. Isn't he a common looking fellow." The President turned to the speaker and answered: "Evidently the Almighty likes us common looking fellows, or He would not have made so many of us."

The Doctor entered a strong plea for public education, and claimed that the future of the nation depended upon the children of to-day. "As the strength of a chain is never stronger than its weakest link, so is the State never stronger than its average citizen, and the only way to strengthen the State is to elevate the standard of citizenship. It has been said," remarked Dr. Martyn, "that the jury box and the ballot box is the normal school of our people." He amused his audience with his definition of a politician. "The average politician," he said, "is a man who whispers at home what he would not have heard in Washington, and in Washington what he would not have heard at home, and who is politically dead when he is equally well known in both places. The Mohammedan prays, 'Great is Allah, and Mohammed is his prophet,' but the American politician prays, 'Great is Boodle, and the Boodler is his profit.'"

Dr. Martyn paid tribute to Senator Bradley, whom he said he admired greatly, for "he has taught the people that they can remain sober and yet have a good time. He," the Doctor said, "is a benefactor. And I would like to take Asbury Park and Ocean Grove and inoculate the entire country. He urged the united efforts of the different churches against the common evils and closed by imploring the American people to lift above the ballot box the cause of Christ, and to stand firmly by the determination to conquer by that sign.

Rev. S. Parks Cadman preached again in the evening, at which time also there was an excellent musical program.

A Russian Legend.

A poor shoemaker, Martin by name, had a great longing to behold the Lord Jesus. One night, in a dream, he received the promise that the Savior would visit him on the morrow. Martin's dwelling was a cellar, and his workbench stood beside the low window, from which he saw nothing but the feet of those who passed by. As was his custom, he rose early, worked at his trade, ate his morning meal, and said to himself: "To-day the Lord Jesus will visit me." Looking up, he saw a pair of shabby feet wearily dragging themselves past his window. Full of pity, he went out and found a poor woman, hungry and homeless, who had wandered about the streets all night long, carrying a sick baby in her arms. Martin took her into his dwelling, gave her the remnant of his breakfast, and fed the child with milk. When she had gone he again set down to his work, hoping that now the Lord Jesus would soon appear. About noon he saw another pair of tired feet shuffling past. Hurrying out, Martin found an old man who had not tasted food that day. He invited him in and shared his midday meal with the hungry guest. When he had gone, Martin thought sadly: "The day is half spent and the Lord Jesus has not yet come."

Toward evening he saw more feet, in violent movement, hurriedly flying hither and thither, and when he went out he found an old fruit seller and a street boy in a fierce fight. The woman, clutching the sleeve of the boy's threadbare jacket, screamed: "He stole my apples, and I will beat him for it." Martin made peace between them, and, finding that both were hungry, he took them home and shared his supper with them.

The day being ended, he went to bed with a sad heart, for the Lord Jesus had not visited him, as had been promised him in his dream.

He slept, and again he dreamed; and behold, in his dream appeared first the tired woman and her sick child; she looked into his eyes and said: "Martin, dost thou know me?"—and the old man came, and the fruit seller, each asking: "Martin, dost thou know me?" Then Martin understood, and he remembered the words: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Popularity.

Popularity is the whim of the populace. It is often superficial and evanescent. Popularity is the judgment of the hour concerning a man. It may die the next day. To depend upon it is to lean upon the staff of a broken reed. To do things just simply to gain the favor and to win the plaudits of the multitude is to miss the way of success and happiness. Not that love and friendship should be despised. Not that a man should be indifferent to public opinion. But popularity as a governing motive is a fatal mistake. One should abide by principle and follow his conscience. If he misses popularity he will secure a modicum of true fame, which is far better.—Texas Christian Advocate.

THE NATION'S BIRTHDAY.

A Three-Day Celebration of American Independence Held in Asbury Park and Ocean Grove.

The festivities commemorating the birth of the Nation, which were held in Asbury Park and Ocean Grove on Saturday, Sunday and Monday last far surpassed anything of the kind in the history of the "twin resorts."

The national game of base ball was fittingly the initial number on the program of events and ushered in the holiday gaieties. The contesting nines were the "Oreos," of Asbury Park, and the Freehold nine from the county-seat. The game did not prove as exciting as had been expected and was called in the seventh inning. The score was: Oreos, 12; Freehold, 10.

Bicycle races and field sports at the the Athletic Grounds held the attention of the holiday public during the afternoon. One of the prettiest races of the day was marred by an accident which resulted in a broken collar bone for Howard Maxson, of Point Pleasant. There were six entries in the "mile novice," and a good start had been made. Decou had set a rattling pace and all went well until the last lap, when the accident occurred just east of the grand stand. Four riders were piled together in a confused mass upon the track. Jesse B. Green, Louis Johnson and Howard Maxson were compelled to retire to their dressing-rooms for medical attendance, but C. H. Bloodgood and Lou Johnson pluckily remounted their wheels and dashed after Carver and De-Con. Decou finished first, Bloodgood second; time, 2.32 1-5.

But three contestants started in the "junior mile race" for boys under fourteen years of age. The result was as follows: first, C. B. Van Cleaf, of Asbury Park; F. A. Zimmerman, a nephew of "Zimmy the Great," was second, and R. S. Harvey, of Point Pleasant, who was badly out-ridden, third; time, 2.46.

The winners of the "two-mile handicap" were: Shafto first; Decou second, and Bawden third. This was the only race that brought disgrace upon the meet. During the first five laps the riders did little more than crawl around the track. The time of the race was 6.05.

This discouraging race was followed by one of the two great events of the day. Arthur A. Zimmerman rode an exhibition half-mile, and established for the Asbury Park Athletic Track a paced half-mile, flying start record which will be hard to beat. Paced by a "quad" propelled by Hogan, J. Eaton, Lefferson and Maddox, the phenomenal rider covered, amid the cheers of the audience, his half-mile in 57 1-5 seconds.

Probably the greatest excitement prevailed during the next event, when Lin Lefferson rode an exhibition mile in two minutes flat, which is just 2 3-5 seconds behind the record made upon the same track by Zimmerman. He was paced by a "quad" ridden by Hogan, Eaton, Backus and Maddox.

Between the bicycle events general field sports held the attention of the audience.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

The sentiment of patriotism was conspicuously present in the services in all the Asbury Park and Ocean Grove churches. National hymns and patriotic music predominated. At the Asbury Park Auditorium at the National Services, Rev. Carlos Martyn, D. D., delivered an address on "American Citizenship." Monday from sunrise until long after sunset the day was given over to celebrating the National anniversary to a degree which far surpassed any Independence Day Anniversary in the history of Asbury Park and Ocean Grove.

In Ocean Grove the festivites were started with the ringing of the town bells and booming of cannon shortly after 4 A. M. and at 10:30 o'clock the National Anniversary of American Independence was held in the Auditorium. The members of C. K. Hall, Post No. 41 G. A. R., of Asbury Park, attended. On the platform were scores of ministers. A large choir under the leadership of Professor John R. Sweney sang patriotic songs while the audience gathered.

Ex-Senator James L. Hays, of Newark, President of the State Board of Education, and a member of the Ocean Grove Association, presided. Prayer was offered by Rev. Peter Stryker, D. D., of Asbury Park and Professor John Enright, of Freehold, Superintendent of Education for Monmouth County, read the Declaration of Independence. The orator of the day was Hon. Edward C. Stokes, of Millville, Senator from Cumberland County. The Benediction was pronounced by Bishop Fitzgerald, of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The afternoon was again given over to bicycle races and track sports. The principal events being the one mile novice, which was won by Hary Rushton, with W. H. Taylor second and A. Naylor third; time 2.38; and the five mile handicap, in which eight racers started, and six finished with Leon DeCou (scratch) in first place, Rushton and Hulick a close second and third respectively. They made excellent time, 13 minutes and 58 seconds.

The climax of the three day celebration was reached in the evening when more than 40,000 persons were entertained with the display of Pain's fireworks at Atlantic square, Asbury Park. For more than an hour the heavens were illuminated with myriads of ever-changing vari-colored stars. The set pieces were elaborate in design and rich in color. Among the most notable devices were the faithful portraiture of George Washington, the reproduction of Niagara Falls, Chromotrope Wheel, Aladdin's Jeweled Tree and the Saxon Chain.

That the three day celebration was a success there can be no doubt and congratulations are due to the members of the Asbury Park Board of Trade for their very efficient management of the details on their side of Wesley Lake and to Rev. E. H. Stokes and his assistants for the excellent program presented in the Auditorium.

A PLEASANT TRIP.

An Agreeable and Enjoyable Ride to New York by Way of the Atlantic Highlands Boat.

The rapid development of the Monmouth County sea-board makes the question of transportation one of exceeding interest to the New York business man who locates his family for the summer months at one of the many bright and attractive resorts with which this part of the Atlantic coast abounds, while he himself makes daily trips to the Metropolis.

Although there are several railroads touching the points in question, affording a most excellent train service, none of these routes are more pleasant and comfortable than the New Jersey Southern by way of Atlantic Highlands. To the business man wearied and worn by a hard day's work or the tourist seeking coolness and comfort, the sail from New York down the river, through the picturesque Narrows, and across the bay to Atlantic Highlands is a restful tonic, soothing to the worn nerves, bracing to the system and calculated to inspire a good night's sleep.

The handsome and commodious steamers, which are run in connection with this line, are among the handsomest, fastest and most elegantly equipped boats plying in the waters adjacent to Manhattan Island. The quick trip of the boat is supplemented by express train service from Atlantic Highlands to the coast resorts as far south as Point Pleasant. Of the trains which meet the incoming boats one runs through direct to Hollywood stopping only at points south, while the other accommodates passengers whose destination is north of that point. So admirable is the service that it requires only about an hour and three-quarters to make the trip from New York to Asbury Park via. this route.

The railroad ride is also one of the pleasant features of the trip from the fact that for a large part of the distance the road runs close to the ocean giving the passenger the benefit of an excellent view, a refreshing breeze, as well as a glimpse of a highly developed and attractive section of country devoted to summer homes by the sea.

The tourist, the business man, or the occasional visitor will find this trip to or from New York via. the Atlantic Highlands boat one of the pleasant recollections of a summer's experience.

ELGEEB.

The Sewer Pipe.

The work connected with the laying of the new sewer pipe extending from the Ocean end of Embury avenue 1200 feet out to sea had been progressing finely during the early part of the week and the distance lost last week by the turning of the pipe had almost been regained when on Thursday morning the tackle tightened and the hook of the pulley block broke. Instantly the Superintendent knew that the pipe had struck some obstruction. Investigation proved it to be a crooked piling. This meant another delay but men were quickly put to work to ascertain the position of the carriage to which the ocean end of the pipe is attached. This was found to have collided with a pile sunk several feet south of the line of the fishing pier, and the whole line of piping had to be drawn a short distance in shore to enable a new course to be laid out a few feet further south that would clear the obstruction.

This occupied several hours, but before sun-set the machinery was again at work and the pipe pushed out nearly 600 hundred feet.

Contractor Conover stated that he expected to have the work completed by Saturday or Monday.

Charge and Countercharge.

During the early part of this week constables G. A. Mills and Samuel White visited the establishment of H. J. Murphy at West Belmar for the purpose of serving a warrant for the arrest of a driver on one of Murphy's beer wagons, who it was claimed had made sales of liquor illegally in Neptune township.

Murphy refused to admit the officers and when Wills attempted to force his way in Murphy attempted to reject him. Officer White then jumped from the wagon and went to Mills assistance. The house was searched but the man they were in search of was not there.

On Wednesday Murphy was arrested for interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty. He was arraigned before Justice Crego, of Belmar, and held under $200 bail. Murphy retaliated by filing a charge against both officers for breaking and entering, and assault; They were taken before Justice Goddard and held under $200 bail each which was promptly furnished by Chief of Police, William A. Berry.

Notice to Wheelmen.

The ordinances of the Ocean Grove Association require that each and every bicycle used upon the streets or avenues within its jurisdiction shall be provided with a bell at all times; and with a lighted lamp or lantern between the hours of 8:30 in the evening and 4 A. M. The police officers have been instructed to strictly enforce these provisions of the ordinances.

J. C. PATTERSON, Chief of Police, Ocean Grove.

Scientific Dentistry.

Dr. S. G. Wallace, the Ocean Grove dentist, has so skillfully handled the various ailments, both to the natural and artificial teeth at Ocean Grove, may be found at his office ready for any mishap, and to relieve a sore aching tooth. The doctor is a specialist in the treatment of diseased teeth. Office Pilgrim Pathway, opposite Post Office, over Fitterolf's Plumbing establishment, Ocean Grove.—AdvJul 10,4t.

J. L. Roper, a prominent merchant of Norfolk, Va., has taken possession of his cottage at the corner of Surf and Beach avenues.

Bishop Edward Wilson, of Metuchen, N. J., has reopened his cottage at the corner of Webb and Pennsylvania avenues.

Mrs. Dr. Nice, of Philidelphia, has returned to the Grove. Mrs. Nice has been a summer resident of Ocean Grove for a great many years.

Wm. B. Hertzel and family of Reading Pa., came to the Grove last week and are comfortably settled for the summer in their Embury avenue cottage.

W. D. Gardner and family of Philadelphia are once more comfortably settled in their pleasant cottage at the corner of Main and New York avenues.

Mrs. J. C. Farr who owns a pleasant cottage on Abbott avenue near Pilgrim Pathway has returned to the Grove and will spend the summer here.

Among the many Brooklyn people who pass the heated months by the sea is M. J. Bremer. Mr. Bremer has a pleasant cottage on Pilgrim Pathway near Wesley Lake.

W. H. Laster, of Elizabeth, N. J., has spent the last three or four seasons in a pleasant cottage on Ocean street near Ocean avenue, together will his family he took possession again this week.

The handsome new cottage of Daniel Adams on Broadway near Central avenue which was recently completed, is a very commodious structure. Mr. Adams accompanied by his family took possession this week.

On Saturday evening last, a quartette of distinguished men was noticed seated upon the porch of the Arlington holding an interesting conversation. They were Bishop John P. Newman, Anthony Comstock, Rev. A. J. Kynett, D. D., and General James J. Rushing.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Robinson, of Detroit, Mich., accompanied by Miss Jane Bancroft came to the Grove the early part of this week and will probably remain for some time. They are located in their pleasant cottage on Cookman avenue near New York avenue.

Mrs. Elizabeth Erwin, of Philadelphia, is a guest at the Osborne House.

Persons seeking rooms will find comfortable accommodations at No. 59 Embury avenue.

Among the many popular guests at the Saxenhurst are Mr. and Mrs. James F. Umpleby, of New York.

Miss Edda Swindell, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. C. Wolkin, of Brooklyn are spending July at the Saxenhurst.

Mr. J. Willard Urmston, of Rahway, N. J., formerly card writer at the Ocean Grove Post Office, is stopping at the Osborn.

Mrs. B. F. Wakefield, of Jersey City, who is a guest at the Saxenhurst, is an ardent admirer of Ocean Grove and a constant visitor.

Mr. G. H. Lamb, of Worcester, Mass., is enjoying the sea breezes, making the Edgewater Cottage on Sea View avenue his headquarters.

Mr. D. Harding, of New York city, with his family and Mr. A. C. Smith and son, of Phillipsburg, are guests at the Edgewater Cottage.

The Misses Elliott, of Frankford, Pa., are spending their vacation at their pleasant summer home, "Friendship Cottage," 81 Zion Way.

Clifford, N. J., is represented at Ocean Grove by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lamb and Miss Lulu Cox. They are enjoying the hospitality of the Edgewater Cottage.

On Tuesday afternoon Hamilton Crisp, J. C. Safer and John Southwick road from Trenton on a Dayton Triplet, arriving at the Saxenhurst with the record of 2 hours and 58 seconds for the half century. The wretched condition of the roads between Heightstown and Freehold is the reason for their not breaking the record.

The wellknown hotel owned and managed by Dr. W. H. L. Starks, at the corner of Pitman and Beach avenues, is receiving a satisfactory number of applications for rooms during the coming season. The doctor is again in charge of the details of the management of this establishment. He was obliged to pass the greater part of the winter in Massachusetts in attendance upon an invalid daughter.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The Asbury Park City Council Enters Its New Home in the Fire Building.

The initial meeting of Council in the new quarters in the Fire Building was devoted largely to the discussion of the bicycle rack and sign ordinance and the consideration of several petitions, from business men, bearing upon this matter. Councilman Samuel Kirkbride distributed boutonieres among the Councilmen and newspaper representatives, and handsome bouquets to President Kreehl and Ex-Senator Bradley.

Clerk of Council, Burroughs read a communication in the form of a protest, from the Board of Directors of the Asbury Park Wheelmen, against the action of Council in abolishing the bicycle rack. Council however has never abolished the bicycle rack simply the signs which adorn them and the communication might have been so answered, but complaint regarding the restrictions was almost untiring the restrictions was almost universal and the wheelmen's letter served as an excuse to bring this important matter before the board. More than 150 merchants had signed the two petitions which were presented to Council, the first of which asked that the resolution ordering the strict enforcement of the sign ordinance, recently passed by the board, be rescinded. In discussing the matter Councilman Jones said, he "did not believe a little paint on the racks made much difference and that in the light in which he saw the matter it would do harm to none and good to many."

In accordance with his instructions Marshal Smith reported that the names of the violaters of the ordinance had been recorded and that they had all been notified but that he had suspended further action pending the instruction of Council.

Founder Bradley was the most aggressive opponent to any concession regarding the signs. He moved that the petition be received and the resolution to enforce the ordinance be strictly adhered to. In defence of this motion the Senator said he did not believe that half of the racks were honestly put out for the convenience of the public, but that it was only a question of time before the evil would pervade the leading avenues of the city.

T. J. Winckler asked if the sign ordinance included barber-poles, stepping stones with names upon them, druggist's mortars etc. He was told that all advertising signs must be abolished which extend upon the sidewalk beyond the distance prescribed in the ordinance. The second petition was then read. It asked for a reconsideration of the ordinance after the business men had been heard. Councilman Harvey introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to hearn the grievances of the business men and instructing the committee to report at the next meeting of Council. The committee appointed is composed of the following Councilmen, Harvey, Keator and Kirkbride. Mr. Harvey further moved that the enforcement of the ordinance be suspended until after the committee had reported.

The request for an electric light to to be placed at First Avenue and Kingsley street was referred to the street committee as was also the matter regarding the condition of Kingsley street and Park avenue.

A committee composed largely of ladies appeared before Council and presented a protest against the Coliseum, a theatre devoted to vaudeville and light opera, at the corner of Second avenue and Kingsley street, which they stated was a nuisance and a detriment to the business of the neighborhood. The ladies claimed that the noise of the performance is heard both day and night and also the rehearsals on Sunday. Their protest received the hearty support of Founder Bradley who offered the resolution which pledges the board to use all legal means to suppress the nuisance.

The report of the Board of Education and its estimate of school expenses for coming year, which was laid over from last week was adopted. The report submitted by Professor James Ralston, regarding the condition of the Asbury Park High School showed an enrollment of 1082 scholars, an increase of 229 over last year.

The execution of the contract with Uriah White was ordered, his price for work in driving piles at the water works is $1.50 per pile.

Mr. Jones of the Fire and Water Committee held the attention of Council for some time upon water business. A bill from R. F. Parlson was presented, it amounted to $535, and was for work done at the water works. It was referred to the Finance Committee. Mr. Jones reported that delinquent water taxes since 1892 amounted to $3,582 66, and censured the clerks of the department for their negligence in sending out the bills. Council instructed that bills be sent out at once for all delinquent water taxes, and upon the motion of Mr. Keator a limit of thirty days was set after which time the water will be turned off from properties where taxes remain unpaid. Due notice of the resolution to be served upon the delinquents. Permission was granted to the Atlantic Coast Electric Railroad Company to move the tracks on Main street for the purpose of connecting with the Belmar road.

Before closing the public session of Council the Councilmen selected the seats they preferred to occupy. Congratulatory speeches upon the entrance to the new quarters were made by Mr. Bradley, Isaac Kennedy, Mayor Frank L. Ten Broeck, N. E. Buchanon, George F. Kroehl, president of Council, and W. W. Davis. An executive session was held before Council adjourned.

RAIDING IMMORAL RESORTS.

Township Police Gather in a Long List of Offenders. Several Fines Imposed.

The township authorities are working night and day to rid this community of certain evils which like weeds grow up between rakings and it is only with such continual and persistent police work that the evils of wrong-doers can be controlled if not actually suppressed. Late Saturday night Police Justice P. P. Dodd, Officers Bennett and Wills and Constable Samuel White called at the house of Kate Logan on First avenue, West Asbury Park, which has been under surveillance for some time. It has been suspected that this place was of a disorderly kind. Officers Bennett and Willis rapped at the front door, demanding admission in the name of the law, while Justice Dodd and Constable White guarded the rear entrance. Kate Logan answered their demand for admission and of course pleaded her innocence, disregarding which the officers searched the house. But two persons were found, a white man and a mulatto girl. At the hearing all three gave bail in $200 each to answer to the Grand Jury at its next term.

The crusade was continued Monday night when the squad of the day before, re-inforced by Chief of Police William A. Berry and Special Officers John White, Silas Barton and Edgar Hills. The first place visited was the house kept by Mrs. Mary Lazardo and which is familiarly known as the "Robber's Roost." Mrs. Lizardo, her sister and two men were captured, together with sufficient liquor to start a good sized saloon, three cases of beer, one keg and three demijohns of whiskey, two bottles and a-half of alcohol and two bottles of sherry. Mrs. Lizardo and liquors were the only things held. Well pleased with the work of the early evening the squad returned and continued the raid and Asbury Hurley next received a call at his place on First avenue, "Little Italy"). Asbury and his wife have but recently returned from paying a protracted visit to the authorities at Freehold, but they had had time to lay in a stock of beer—four cases— and were doing business at the old stand. They returned with the officers as did also the beer. The next on Justice Dodd's calling list was Robert Weir's hard cider dispensary on Springwood avenue. Robert was disorderly and indulged in language more expressive than polite; for which he paid $2 and costs in the morning. Weir, however, spent the night at the township jail and before the morning a friend of his, Hugh McClusky by name, called to see him. Permission being granted the two friends held a conversation through the bars. Jailor Jos Robertson noticed McClusky pass a bottle into Weir and called to them, but before he could get the cell door open Weir had swallowed the whiskey, when the door closed McClusky was on the inside with his friend and each paid a fine of $2 and costs before securing a release.

Hunt and Finley paid $5 and cost each to save themselves from spending 30 days at Freehold, for fighting on Springwood avenue.

John Bresnahan was arrested at the Athletic grounds for drunkeness, he paid a fine of $1 and costs.

Champion of France.

The Century Cycle Club, of Newark, is anxious to obtain the lease of the Asbury Park Athletic Grounds, and are negotiating with the board of managers of the Athletic Association with that end in view. It is their intention, if successful, to hold bicycle races there every Saturday during the season.

The offer made by the Newark Club appears to be a reasonable one, and it has been stated upon good authority that it will very probably be accepted. Should this prove to be true it will add one more attraction to Asbury Park, and the re-opening of the grounds for bicycle races will recall pleasant memories of the days when Zimmerman, Bald, Titus, Johnson, Maddox, Sanger and other record makers drew crowds which filled the grand stand and bleachers to overflowing.

H. E. Ducker, secretary of the National Track Association, has communicated with Councilman Samuel Kirkbride, informing him of a circuit which is now being formed for exhibition rides and speed contests for the great French bicycle champion, Lucien Lesna, asking if he was wanted for Asbury Park. Titus is to ride against him in New York and Tyler at Springfield, but it has not yet been decided if he will ride in Asbury Park.

To Protect Cyclers.

The Board of Management of the Asbury Park Wheelmen is determined to protect the members of that organization against the ever increasing evil of bicycle stealing. To accomplish this end the following notice has been issued:

$50.00 REWARD.

Fifty dollars reward will be paid for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person stealing a bicycle belonging to a member of the Asbury Park Wheelmen.

Twenty-five dollars will be paid by the said club, and twenty-five dollars by the New Jersey Division of the League of American Wheelmen, with which organization all members of the Asbury Park Wheelmen are associated.

The attorneys of the Asbury Park Wheelmen and of the L. A. W., will be assigned to co-operate with the State in the speedy and effective criminal prosecution of all such offenders, or of any offense against the cycling rights of members of said club.

President Asbury Park Wheelmen.

TROLLEY SYSTEMS UNITED.

Township Committee Gives Permission to Connect the Belmar and Atlantic Coast Roads.

Several matters of importance have come up for action before the Township Committee during the past week, prominent among them being the application of the Atlantic Coast Electric Railway Company for permission to relay a part of the track of the Asbury Park and Belmar road in order to make a connection between the two lines.

The application came up for discussion last Friday evening, July 2, and Mr. Percy Farquhar, of the Atlantic Coast road, appeared before the Committee and stated that it was desired to move the tracks of the Belmar road to the centre of the street, from a point opposite the main avenue gates to the end of the Atlantic line at the head of Wesley Lake. This would give a connection that would enable a through system of cars to be operated between Asbury Park and Belmar.

The application for this privilege had been filed at a previous meeting but the Committee desired to give the citizens an opportunity to express an opinion regarding the proposed change, hence the reason for action being deferred until July 6.

When the Committee met at 4 o'clock on the last named date an opportunity was given for the filing of remonstrances and there appeared to be no opposition. The resolutions granting the privilege was read, but not being in a form entirely satisfactory to the Committee a recess was taken until 8:30 P. M. to enable corrections to be made. When the meeting was called to order again the resolution was read and adopted. The conditions attached to this consent are to the effect that the Railway Company shall take up the old track before laying the new and macadamize the roadway on both sides of the rails. The placing of the road in the centre of the street will be a material improvement as it will form a natural division of the bicycle and wagon traffic going in opposite directions and lessen the danger of accident.

The regular meeting of the Committee was held Wednesday evening, July 7.

Mr. Hulshart was appointed a committee to procure a quantity of ashes for repairs to roads and Mr. Berry to procure a gas lamp for the clerk's desk.

A remonstrance against the granting of a license to T. J. Murphy, of West Belmar, was prepared by Township Counsel, Samuel A. Patterson, and was filed with Judge Conover, at Freehold Thursday. Murphy is suspected of having violated the law by selling liquor from wagons.

After passing a number of bills the Committee adjourned.

Annual Baby's Fete.

Senator Bradley, and Milan Ross who is to have charge this year of the annual baby parade, are formulating elaborate plans for the approaching procession of infantile loveliness. No date has been settled upon as yet, but it is likely this peculiarly local attraction will be held the latter part of the present month. Mr. Ross has arranged to devote much of his time to the perfection of plans, the securing of novelties and the procuring of special attractions, and it is his intention to surpass any of the parades heretofore held.

The baby parade is an Asbury Park feature. Infant pugantry was one of the many bright ideas which originated with Senator Bradley, and for the past ten years no season has been without this annual festival. Prizes will be competed for in various classes, and proud mothers will be enabled to boast of their prize-winning babies. The entry list has already been opened, and babies will be registered upon application to Mr. Milan Ross, Main street, Asbury Park.

Camp Asbury Opened.

A detachment of the New York and Brooklyn divisions of the Baptist Boys' Brigade, numbering about 175, pitched camp on the banks of Shark River, on Tuesday afternoon, about 1 o'clock. The young soldiers left New York in the morning and made the journey to Pleasure Bay by boat, thence by trolley to Asbury Park. Here they were met by the First Baptist Church company, of Asbury Park, who acted as an escort, accompanying them the remaining distance of their march, about two and a half miles, to Camp Asbury which is situated on the north bank of Shark River, near Avon. The situation of the camp is excellent and furnishes ample opportunities for drill, routine work and recreation. General A. C. Kenyon, of New York, is the commanding officer, and will remain in charge of the camp until September. Each detachment will make a stay of two weeks, when it will be replaced by another.

Officers Installed.

The Asbury Park Council No. 23, Jr. O. U. A. M., held an interesting meeting on Saturday evening of last week. It was installation night and the Council room in the Appleby building was crowded with members of the order who participated in the ritualistic ceremony attendant upon the installing of the followig officers:

Councilor—Joel Boyce.
Vice Councilor—B. VanHise.
Recording Secretary—Henry D. Chamberlain.
Financial Secretary—H. C. Wallace, Jr.
Treasurer—Claude V. Gentile.
Conductor—Fred Wilson.
Warden—S. A. Oliver.
Inside Sentinal—Horace Applegate.
Outside Sentinal—Charles Lippincott.

A Big Reduction.

For a short time we are authorized to offer a handsome Queen Anne cottage, located on a corner, cost $3,800, for $2,200. This is your opportunity. W. H. Beegle, 48 Main avenue, Ocean Grove.

THE OPPOSITE SHORE.

Interesting Items Pertaining to Incidents and Individuals in Asbury Park.

J. H. Wilson and family, of Philadelphia, will occupy Fred. Leggett's cottage for the season.

Senator Bradley stopped the distribution of the beach land program last week because it contained the advertisements of fourteen liquor dealers.

—Counsellor S. A. Patterson of Asbury Park was appointed Special Master and Examiner in Chancery by Chancellor Alexander T. McGill a few days ago.

—Chief of Police Smith has had a busy week notifying the merchants what they must not do. No low awnings, no signs on bicycle racks, no unpacking of goods upon the highway.

—James H. Sexton, who recently had his bicycle stolen from the vestibule of the First M. E. Church of Asbury Park, recovered the wheel last week in a Long Branch pawn shop.

—W. Harvey Jones of the Hotel Columbia has made arrangements with the New Jersey State Medical Society to hold their next annual session at his hotel in Asbury Park. The Association will convene July 28th and will hold a three-day session.

—Owners of property on West Sewall avenue propose presenting a petition to Hon. J. Clarence Conover, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Monmouth County, praying that Sewall avenue be opened its entire length, from the beach across the railroad to its western terminus in West Asbury Park.

—The recent action of Asbury Park's councilmen in ordering the removal of bicycle racks from the sidewalks of that city has created a storm of anger which is not likely soon to subside. Both merchant and bicycler denounce their action as uncalled for and petty. The opposition of the people is so strong that it is thought not unlikely that the council will rescind its action of last Monday night.

—The Baptist Boys' Brigade will hold an encampment at Shark River, commencing Monday, July 12. The exercises in connection with the opening of Camp Asbury will be held at 3 p. m., when addresses will be made by Rev. R. S. McArthur of New York, Rev. J. C. Campbell, James A. Bradley and Mayor Frank L. Ten Broeck. The veterans of C. K. Hall, Post No. 17, G. A. R., will review the young soldiers.

—General A. C. Kenyon of New York, who will be in charge of the Baptist Boys' Brigade when they go into encampment on Shark river, applied to C. K. Hall, Post No. 17, G. A. R., for the loan of one of the brass field pieces which are mounted in front of the soldier's monument. The cannon is required to fire the sunrise salute at Camp Asbury. The request was granted.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. King have issued invitations for a reception to be given on Saturday evening, July 3rd, at their home, No. 600 Bangs avenue, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. Mr. King is a prominent journalist of Asbury Park; and for many years has been connected with the New Jersey staff of the New York Journal.

Miss Eva Eldridge of New Brunswick, who resides with her parents at Heck and New Jersey avenues, met with a serious bicycle accident on Sunday afternoon last, while riding in Long Branch. She endeavored to pass between two wagons, one of which was approaching at rapid rate. Her handle bars were struck by the hind wheel, throwing her violently to the ground. The wagon was driven by Mr. Worthly of Eatontown, who offered her every assistance and drove her home. It is thought that Miss Eldridge will always carry the scar which now marks her forehead.

AMONG THE HOTEES

The Mansion House at the corner of Embury and Heck avenues has passed under the management of Miss Manwiller. She has some of her brothers associated with her in the conduct of the enterprise.

F. D. Rosengrant has reopened his popular hotel, the Highland House on Atlantic avenue. This is his eleventh season here, and during that time his house has steadily increased in popularity and is constantly filled with young people.

The Ice Cream Establishment of Morrow & Day is now fully prepared to meet all demands both for the cottage and hotel trade in the line of creams of any flavor or in any quantity. They are also prepared to cater to picnic and pleasure parties of any character.

Mrs. Rebecca Wood will this season be in charge of the well-known Howland House. This is so located that it is but a step to the Auditorium and other places of religious worship, making it especially desirable to people who wish to reach these points without the exertion of a long walk. Miss Wood proposes to keep the house open during the entire year.

Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins, the proprietors of the Arctic House on Surf avenue, announce that this popular establishment is quite open for the reception of summer guests. It is splendidly located within a few doors of the ocean, and almost every room has a splendid view of the sea. Mrs. Tompkins has a wide experience in keeping summer guests and her house is always a popular resort.

The Lyon Cottage, located at the corner of Thurman Way and New York avenue, under the management of Mrs. A. Hall, the owner, has built up a desirable patronage among summer visitors to Ocean Grove. Mrs. Hall has had many years experience and thoroughly understands the best mode of conducting a successful house.

Our Own Celebration!
One That Will Please!
One That Will Interest!

While thousands of true Americans will celebrate the Fourth in their own way and as they feel inclined, we will celebrate, and in the meantime interest all those that will favor us with a visit.

THIS SATURDAY, JULY 3,

As we will close Monday July 5th, at noon.

Our Object For This is Two-Fold.

First, to show the public the great Mammoth in its complete form; Second, to convince that permanent as well as transient visitors can be supplied with the best goods at the least money in the county.

With this object in view, and befitting the great American holiday, we have engaged a

THE NATION'S BIRTHDAY.

A Three-Day Celebration of American Independence Held in Asbury Park and Ocean Grove.

The festivities commemorating the birth of the Nation, which were held in Asbury Park and Ocean Grove on Saturday, Sunday and Monday last far surpassed anything of the kind in the history of the "twin resorts."

The national game of base ball was fittingly the initial number on the program of events and ushered in the holiday gaieties. The contesting nines were the "Oreos," of Asbury Park, and the Freehold nine from the county-seat. The game did not prove as exciting as had been expected and was called in the seventh inning. The score was: Oreos, 12; Freehold, 10.

Bicycle races and field sports at the the Athletic Grounds held the attention of the holiday public during the afternoon. One of the prettiest races of the day was marred by an accident which resulted in a broken collar bone for Howard Maxson, of Point Pleasant. There were six entries in the "mile novice," and a good start had been made. Decou had set a rattling pace and all went well until the last lap, when the accident occurred just east of the grand stand. Four riders were piled together in a confused mass upon the track. Jesse B. Green, Louis Johnson and Howard Maxson were compelled to retire to their dressing-rooms for medical attendance, but C. H. Bloodgood and Lon Johnson pluckily remounted their wheels and dashed after Carver and DeCou. Decou finished first, Bloodgood second; time, 2.32 1-5.

But three contestants started in the "junior mile race" for boys under fourteen years of age. The result was as follows: first, C. B. Van Cleaf, of Asbury Park; F. A. Zimmerman, a nephew of "Zimmy the Great," was second, and R. S. Harvey, of Point Pleasant, who was badly out-ridden, third; time, 2.46.

The winners of the "two-mile handicap" were: Shafto first; Decou second, and Bawden third. This was the only race that brought disgrace upon the meet. During the first five laps the riders did little more than crawl around the track. The time of the race was 6.05.

This discouraging race was followed by one of the two great events of the day. Arthur A. Zimmerman rode an exhibition half-mile, and established for the Asbury Park Athletic Track a paced half-mile, flying start record which will be hard to beat. Paced by a "quad" propelled by Hogan, J. Eaton, Lefferson and Maddox, the phenomenal rider covered, amid the cheers of the audience, his half-mile in 57 1-5 seconds.

Probably the greatest excitement prevailed during the next event, when Lin Lefferson rode an exhibition mile in two minutes flat, which is just 2 3-5 seconds behind the record made upon the same track by Zimmerman. He was paced by a "quad" ridden by Hogan, Eaton, Backus and Maddox.

Between the bicycle events general field sports held the attention of the audience.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

The sentiment of patriotism was conspicuously present in the services in all the Asbury Park and Ocean Grove churches. National hymns and patriotic music predominated. At the Asbury Park Auditorium at the National Services, Rev. Carlos Martyn, D. D., delivered an address on "American Citizenship." Monday from sunrise until long after sunset the day was given over to celebrating the National anniversary to a degree which far surpassed any Independence Day Anniversary in the history of Asbury Park and Ocean Grove.

In Ocean Grove the festivities were started with the ringing of the town bells and booming of cannon shortly after 4 A. M. and at 10:30 o'clock the National Anniversary of American Independence was held in the Auditorium. The members of C. K. Hall, Post No. 41 G. A. R., of Asbury Park, attended. On the platform were scores of ministers. A large choir under the leadership of Professor John R. Sweney sang patriotic songs while the audience gathered.

Ex-Senator James L. Hays, of Newark, President of the State Board of Education, and a member of the Ocean Grove Association, presided. Prayer was offered by Rev. Peter Stryker, D. D., of Asbury Park and Professor John Enright, of Freehold, Superintendent of Education for Monmouth County, read the Declaration of Independence. The orator of the day was Hon. Edward C. Stokes, of Millville, Senator from Cumberland County. The Benediction was pronounced by Bishop Fitzgerald, of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The afternoon was again given over to bicycle races and track sports. The principal events being the one mile novice, which was won by Hary Rushton, with W. H. Taylor second and A. Naylor third; time 2.38; and the five mile handicap, in which eight racers started, and six finished with Leon DeCou (scratch) in first place, Rushton and Hullck a close second and third respectively. They made excellent time, 13 minutes and 58 seconds.

The climax of the three day celebration was reached in the evening when more than 40,000 persons were entertained with the display of Pain's fireworks at Atlantic square, Asbury Park. For more than an hour the heavens were illuminated with myriads of ever-changing vari-colored stars. The set pieces were elaborate in design and rich in color. Among the most notable devices were the faithful portraiture of George Washington, the reproduction of Niagara Falls, Chromothrope Wheel, Aladdin's Jeweled Tree and the Saxon Chain.

That the three day celebration was a success there can be no doubt and congratulations are due to the members of the Asbury Park Board of Trade for their very efficient management of the details on their side of Wesley Lake and to Rev. E. H. Stokes and his assistants for the excellent program presented in the Auditorium.

A PLEASANT TRIP.

An Agreeable and Enjoyable Ride to New York by Way of the Atlantic Highlands Boat.

The rapid development of the Monmouth County sea-board makes the question of transportation one of exceeding interest to the New York business man who locates his family for the summer months at one of the many bright and attractive resorts with which this part of the Atlantic coast abounds, while he himself makes daily trips to the Metropolis.

Although there are several railroads touching the points in question, affording a most excellent train service, none of these routes are more pleasant and comfortable than the New Jersey Southern by way of Atlantic Highlands. To the business man wearied and worn by a hard day's work or the tourist seeking coolness and comfort, the sail from New York down the river, through the picturesque Narrows, and across the bay to Atlantic Highlands is a restful tonic, soothing to the worn nerves, bracing to the system and calculated to inspire a good night's sleep.

The handsome and commodious steamers, which are run in connection with this line, are among the handsomest, fastest and most elegantly equipped boats plying in the waters adjacent to Manhattan Island. The quick trip of the boat is supplemented by express train service from Atlantic Highlands to the coast resorts as far south as Point Pleasant. Of the trains which meet the incoming boats one runs through direct to Hollywood stopping only at points south, while the other accommodates passengers whose destination is north of that point. So admirable is the service that it requires only about an hour and three-quarters to make the trip from New York to Asbury Park via. this route.

The railroad ride is also one of the pleasant features of the trip from the fact that for a large part of the distance the road runs close to the ocean giving the passenger the benefit of an excellent view, a refreshing breeze, as well as a glimpse of a highly developed and attractive section of country devoted to summer homes by the sea.

The tourist, the business man, or the occasional visitor will find this trip to or from New York via. the Atlantic Highlands boat one of the pleasant recollections of a summer's experience.

ELGEEB.

The Sewer Pipe.

The work connected with the laying of the new sewer pipe extending from the Ocean end of Embury avenue 1200 feet out to sea had been progressing finely during the early part of the week and the distance lost last week by the turning of the pipe had almost been regained when on Thursday morning the tackle tightened and the hook of the pulley block broke. Instantly the Superintendent knew that the pipe had struck some obstruction. Investigation proved it to be a crooked piling. This meant another delay but men were quickly put to work to ascertain the position of the carriage to which the ocean end of the pipe is attached. This was found to have collided with a pile sunk several feet south of the line of the fishing pier, and the whole line of piping had to be drawn a short distance in shore to enable a new course to be laid out a few feet further south that would clear the obstruction.

This occupied several hours, but before sun-set the machinery was again at work and the pipe pushed out nearly 600 hundred feet.

Contractor Conover stated that he expected to have the work completed by Saturday or Monday.

Charge and Countercharge.

During the early part of this week constables G. A. Mills and Samuel White visited the establishment of H. J. Murphy at West Belmar for the purpose of serving a warrant for the arrest of a driver on one of Murphy's beer wagons, who it was claimed had made sales of liquor illegally in Neptune township.

Murphy refused to admit the officers and when Wills attempted to force his way in Murphy attempted to reject him. Officer White then jumped from the wagon and went to Mills assistance. The house was searched but the man they were in search of was not there.

On Wednesday Murphy was arrested for interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty. He was arraigned before Justice Crego, of Belmar, and held under $200 bail. Murphy retaliated by filing a charge against both officers for breaking and entering, and assault; They were taken before Justice Doddard and held under $200 bail each which was promptly furnished by Chief of Police, William A. Berry.

Notice to Wheelmen.

The ordinances of the Ocean Grove Association require that each and every bicycle used upon the streets or avenues within its jurisdiction shall be provided with a bell at all times; and with a lighted lamp or lantern between the hours of 8:30 in the evening and 4 A. M. The police officers have been instructed to strictly enforce these provisions of the ordinances.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The Asbury Park City Council Enters Its New Home in the Fire Building.

The initial meeting of Council in the new quarters in the Fire Building was devoted largely to the discussion of the bicycle rack and sign ordinance and the consideration of several petitions, from business men, bearing upon this matter. Councilman Samuel Kirkbride distributed boutonieres among the Councilmen and newspaper representatives, and handsome bouquets to President Kroehl and Ex-Senator Bradley.

Clerk of Council, Burroughs read a communication in the form of a protest, from the Board of Directors of the Asbury Park Wheelmen, against the action of Council in abolishing the bicycle rack. Council however has never abolished the bicycle rack simply the signs which adorn them and the communication might have been so answered, but complaint regarding the restrictions was almost uniing the restrictions was almost universal and the wheelmen's letter served as an excuse to bring this important matter before the board. More than 150 merchants had signed the two petitions which were presented to Council, the first of which asked that the resolution ordering the strict enforcement of the sign ordinance, recently passed by the Board, be rescinded. In discussing the matter Councilman Jones said, he "did not believe a little paint on the racks made much difference and that in the light in which he saw the matter it would do harm to none and good to many."

In accordance with his instructions Marshal Smith reported that the names of the violaters of the ordinance had been recorded and that they had all been notified but that he had suspended further action pending the instruction of Council.

Founder Bradley was the most aggressive opponent to any concession regarding the signs. He moved that the petition be received and the resolution to enforce the ordinance be strictly adhered to. In defence of this motion the Senator said he did not believe that half of the racks were honestly put out for the convenience of the public, but that it was only a question of time before the evil would pervade the leading avenues of the city.

T. J. Winckler asked if the sign ordinance included barber-poles, stepping stones with names upon them, druggist's mortars etc. He was told that all advertising signs must be abolished which extend upon the sidewalk beyond the distance prescribed in the ordinance. The second petition was then read. It asked for a reconsideration of the ordinance after the business men had been heard. Councilman Harvey introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to hearn the grievances of the business men and instructing the committee to report at the next meeting of Council. The committee appointed is composed of the following Councilmen, Harvey, Keator and Kirkbride. Mr. Harvey further moved that the enforcement of the ordinance be suspended until after the committee had reported.

The request for an electric light to to be placed at First Avenue and Kingsley street was referred to the street committee as was also the matter regarding the condition of Kingsley street and Park avenue.

A committee composed largely of ladies apppeared before Council and presented a protest against the Coliseum, a theatre devoted to vaudeville and light opera, at the corner of Second avenue and Kingsley street, which they stated was a nuisance and a detriment to the business of the neighborhood. The ladies claimed that the noise of the performance is heard both day and night and also the rehearsals on Sunday. Their protest received the hearty support of Founder Bradley who offered the resolution which pledges the board to use all legal means to suppress the nuisance.

The report of the Board of Education and its estimate of school expenses for coming year, which was laid over from last week was adopted. The report submitted by Professor James Ralston, regarding the condition of the Asbury Park High School showed an enrollment of 1082 scholars, an increase of 229 over last year.

The execution of the contract with Uriah White was ordered, his price for work in driving piles at the water works is $1,50 per pile.

Mr. Jones of the Fire and Water Committee held the attention of Council for some time upon water business. A bill from R. F. Parison was presented, it amounted to $535, and was for work done at the water works. It was referred to the Finance Committee. Mr. Jones reported that delinquent water taxes since 1892 amounted to $3,582 96, and censured the clerks of the department for their negligence in sending out the bills. Council instructed that bills be sent out at once for all delinquent water taxes, and upon the motion of Mr. Keator a limit of thirty days was set after which time the water will be turned off from properties where taxes remain unpaid. Due notice of the resolution to be served upon the delinquents. Permission was granted to the Atlantic Coast Electric Railroad Company to move the tracks on Main street for the purpose of connecting with the Belmar road.

Before closing the public session of Council the Councilmen selected the seats they preferred to occupy. Congratulatory speeches upon the entrance to the new quarters were made by Mr. Bradley, Isaac Kennedy, Mayor Frank L. Ten Broeck, N. E. Buchanon, George F. Kroehl, president of Council, and W. W. Davis. An executive session was held before Council adjourned.

RAIDING IMMORAL RESORTS.

Township Police Gather in a Long List of Offenders. Several Fines Imposed.

The township authorities are working night and day to rid this community of certain evils which like weeds grow up between rakings and it is only with such continual and persistent police work that the evils of wrong-doers can be controlled if not actually suppressed. Late Saturday night Police Justice P. F. Dodd, Officers Bennett and Wills and Constable Samuel White called at the house of Kate Logan on First avenue, West Asbury Park, which has been under surveillance for some time. It has been suspected that this place was of a disorderly kind. Officers Bennett and Willis rapped at the front door, demanding admission in the name of the law, while Justice Dodd and Constable White guarded the rear entrance. Kate Logan answered their demand, for admission and of course pleaded her innocence, disregarding which the officers searched the house. But two persons were found, a white man and a mulatto girl. At the hearing all three gave bail in $200 each to answer to the Grand Jury at its next term.

The crusade was continued Monday night when the squad of the day before, re-inforced by Chief of Police William A. Berry and Special Officers John White, Silas Barton and Edgar Bills. The first place visited was the house kept by Mrs. Mary Lazardo and which is familiarly known as the "Robber's Roost." Mrs. Lizardo, her sister and two men were captured, together with sufficient liquor to start a good sized saloon, three cases of beer, one keg and three demijohns of whiskey, two bottles and a-half of alcohol and two bottles of sherry. Mrs. Lizardo and liquors were the only things held. Well pleased with the work of the early evening the squad returned and continued the raid and Asbury Hurley next received a call at his place on First avenue, "Little Italy"). Asbury and his wife have but recently returned from paying a protracted visit to the authorities at Freehold, but they had had time to lay in a stock of beer—four cases— and were doing business at the old stand. They returned with the officers as did also the beer. The next on Justice Dodd's calling list was Robert Weir's hard cider dispensary on Springwood avenue. Robert was disorderly and indulged in language more expressive than polite, for which he paid $2 and costs in the morning. Weir, however, spent the night at the township jail, and before the morning a friend of his, Hugh McClasky by name, called to see him. Permission being granted the two friends held a conversation through the bars. Jailor Joe Robertson noticed McClasky pass a bottle into Weir and called to them, but before he could get the cell door open Weir had swallowed the whiskey, when the door closed McClasky was on the inside with his friend and each paid a fine of $2 and costs before securing a release.

Hunt and Finley paid $5 and cost each to save themselves from spending 30 days at Freehold, for fighting on Springwood avenue.

John Bresnaham was arrested at the Athletic grounds for drunkeness, he paid a fine of $1 and costs.

Champion of France.

The Century Cycle Club, of Newark, is anxious to obtain the lease of the Asbury Park Athletic Grounds, and are negotiating with the board of managers of the Athletic Association with that end in view. It is their intention, if successful, to hold bicycle races there every Saturday during the season.

The offer made by the Newark Club appears to be a reasonable one, and it has been stated upon good authority that it will very probably be accepted. Should this prove to be true it will add one more attraction to Asbury Park, and the re-opening of the grounds for bicycle races will recall pleasant memories of the days when Zimmerman, Bald, Titus, Johnson, Maddox, Sanger and other record makers drew crowds which filled the grand stand and bleachers to overflowing.

H. E. Ducker, secretary of the National Track Association, has communicated with Councilman Samuel Kirkbride, informing him of a circuit which is now being formed for exhibition rides and speed contests for the great French bicycle champion, Lucien Lesna, asking if he was wanted for Asbury Park. Titus is to ride against him in New York and Tyler at Springfield, but it has not yet been decided if he will ride in Asbury Park.

To Protect Cyclers.

The Board of Management of the Asbury Park Wheelmen is determined to protect the members of that organization against the ever increasing evil of bicycle stealing. To accomplish this end the following notice has been issued:

$50.00 REWARD.

Fifty dollars reward will be paid for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person stealing a bicycle belonging to a member of the Asbury Park Wheelmen.

Twenty-five dollars will be paid by the said club, and twenty-five dollars by the New Jersey Division of the League of American Wheelmen, with which organization all members of the Asbury Park Wheelmen are associated.

The attorneys of the Asbury Park Wheelmen and of the L. A. W., will be assigned to co-operate with the State in the speedy and effective criminal prosecution of all such offenders, or of any offense against the cycling rights of members of said club.

HAROLD B. AYRES,
President Asbury Park Wheelmen.
C. FRANK KIBEKER,
Chief Consul N. J. Div., L. A. W.

TROLLEY SYSTEMS UNITED.

Township Committee Gives Permission to Connect the Belmar and Atlantic Coast Roads.

Several matters of importance have come up for action before the Township Committee during the past week, prominent among them being the application of the Atlantic Coast Electric Railway Company for permission to relay a part of the track of the Asbury Park and Belmar road in order to make a connection between the two lines.

The application came up for discussion last Friday evening, July 2, and Mr. Percy Farquhar, of the Atlantic Coast road, appeared before the Committee and stated that it was desired to move the tracks of the Belmar road to the centre of the street, from a point opposite the main avenue gates to the end of the Atlantic line at the head of Wesley Lake. This would give a connection that would enable a through system of cars to be operated between Asbury Park and Belmar.

The application for this privilege had been filed at a previous meeting but the Committee desired to give the citizens an opportunity to express an opinion regarding the proposed change, hence the reason for action being deferred until July 6.

When the Committee met at 4 o'clock on the last named date an opportunity was given for the filing of remonstrances and there appeared to be no opposition. The resolutions granting the privilege was read, but not being in a form entirely satisfactory to the Committee a recess was taken until 9:30 P. M. to enable corrections to be made. When the meeting was called to order again the resolution was read and adopted. The conditions attached to this consent are to the effect that the Railway Company shall take up the old track before laying the new and macadamize the roadway on both sides of the rails. The placing of the road in the centre of the street will be a material improvement as it will form a natural division of the bicycle and wagon traffic going in opposite directions and lessen the danger of accident.

The regular meeting of the Committee was held Wednesday evening, July 7.

Mr. Hulshart was appointed a committee to procure a quantity of ashes for repairs to roads and Mr. Berry to procure a gas lamp for the clerk's desk.

A remonstrance against the granting of a license to T. J. Murphy, of West Belmar, was prepared by Township Counsel, Samuel A. Patterson, and was filed with Judge Conover, at Freehold Thursday. Murphy is suspected of having violated the law by selling liquor from wagons.

After passing a number of bills the Committee adjourned.

Annual Baby's Fete.

Senator Bradley, and Milan Ross who is to have charge this year of the annual baby parade, are formulating elaborate plans for the approaching procession of infantile loveliness. No date has been settled upon as yet, but it is likely this peculiarly local attraction will be held the latter part of the present month. Mr. Ross has arranged to devote much of his time to the perfection of plans, the securing of novelties and the procuring of special attractions, and it is his intention to surpass any of the parades heretofore held.

The baby parade is an Asbury Park feature. Infant pagantry was one of the many bright ideas which originated with Senator Bradley, and for the past ten years no season has been without this annual festival. Prizes will be competed for in various classes, and proud mothers will be enabled to boast of their prize-winning babies. The entry list has already been opened, and babies will be registered upon application to Mr. Milan Ross, Main street, Asbury Park.

Camp Asbury Opened.

A detachment of the New York and Brooklyn divisions of the Baptist Boys' Brigade, numbering about 175, pitched camp on the banks of Shark River, on Tuesday afternoon, about 4 o'clock. The young soldiers left New York in the morning and made the journey to Pleasure Bay by boat, thence by trolley to Asbury Park. Here they were met by the First Baptist Church company, of Asbury Park, who acted as an escort, accompanying them the remaining distance of their march, about two and a half miles, to Camp Asbury which is situated on the north bank of Shark River, near Avon. The situation of the camp is excellent and furnishes ample opportunities for drill, routine work and recreation. General A. C. Kenyon, of New York, is the commanding officer, and will remain in charge of the camp until September. Each detachment will make a stay of two weeks, when it will be replaced by another.

Officers Installed.

The Asbury Park Council No. 23, Jr. O. U. A. M., held an interesting meeting on Saturday evening of last week. It was installation night and the Council room in the Appleby building was crowded with members of the order who participated in the ritualistic ceremony attendant upon the installing of the followig officers:

Councilor— Joel Boyce.
Vice Councilor— B. VanHise.
Recording Secretary—Henry D. Chamberlain.
Financial Secretary—H. C. Wallace, Jr.
Treasurer—Claude V. Geulin.

THE HOUSEWIFE.

DEVILLED CLAMS.

Pour cold water over twenty-five clams and drain thoroughly. Chop fine into a cupful of boiling milk, stir a table spoonful of butter and two of flour which have been rubbed together. Stir until thick, then add one ounce of bread crumbs, the yolk of two eggs, and some chopped parcely. Remove from the fire and after stirring thoroughly, stir in the clams; add pepper, but be careful about salt, as it may be salty enough. Fill any kind of shells with the mixture—brush over with a well beaten egg yolk, sprinkle with bread crumbs and brown in the oven.

RED CURRANTS.

As a breakfast fruit, they may be kept on the stems and dipped in sugar; or stemmed and sugared, to which add chopped ice.

RED CURRANT PIE.

After the currants have been picked and washed, fill a deep dish with them and sugar thoroughly. Lay on them a slice of bread thick enough to fill the dish so that the crust will not sink in, then cover with a good pastry crust. When baked, remove the crust carefully with a sharp knife and take out the bread. Fill up the dish with thick custard or whipped cream. Brush the edge of the dish with white of egg, and press the lid on again—put in a hot oven for about a minute.

Red currant shortcake may be made in the same way as strawberry.

CURRANT AND RASPBERRY JAM.

Requires the weight of the fruit in sugar. Have the fruit dry. Heat through until the juice flows freely. Have the sugar heated quite hot and added. Boil fast in an uncovered kettle, until the quantity tested stiffens when cooled on a plate. Have the jars dry and hot, and keep in a cool place. See that they are closely covered.

CURRANT JELLY.

A new method is given by a French cook. The currants are washed, drained and squeezed—and the juice placed in a stone jar and set away to cool. After twenty-four hours remove the froth which has formed on the surface and strain the liquid through a jelly bag. Add to the weight of strained juice, an equal weight of powdered sugar and stir until every particle of sugar is dissolved. Fill tumblers or cups, cover them closely and keep in a dark, cool place. At the end of twenty-four hours, a perfectly transparent jelly will be formed, which will keep as long as if it had been cooked. If fruit is over ripe it will never jelly.

RASPBERRY VINEGAR.

Thoroughly mash the berries and place in a stone jar. Cover well with good cider vinegar. Then stand in the hot sun all day, and at night in a cool place. Occassionally stir. Strain, and add as many fresh berries as you strained out. After pouring back the vinegar, mash as before and stand in the sun. Strain again and allow a pint of water to every quart of juice, and to each quart of the liquid add three pounds of sugar.

RASPBERRY TAPIOCA.

Stir half a tea cupful of instantaneous tapioca into a quart of boiling water, as it begins to thicken, add a box of raspberries, sweeten well, and when cooked, which will be in a few minutes, remove from the fire and pour into moulds that have been dipped in cold water. Set on ice and eat with cream or milk.

Personally Conducted Tours via Pennsylvania Railroad.

That the public have come to recognize the fact that the best and most convenient method of pleasure travel is that presented by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's personally conducted tours, is evidenced by the increasing popularity of these tours. Under this system the lowest rates are obtained, for both transportation and hotel accommodation. An experienced tourist agent and chaperon accompany each tour to look after the comfort of the passenger.

The following tours have been arranged for the season of 1897:—

To the north (including Watkins Glen, Niagara Falls, Thousand Islands, Montreal, Quebec, An Sable Chasm, Lakes Champlain and George, Saratoga, and a daylight ride down through the Highlands of the Hudson), July 27 and August 17. Rate, $100 for the round trip from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington, covering all expenses of a two week's trip.

To Yellowstone Park on a special train of Pullman sleeping, compartment, and observation cars and dining car, allowing eight days in "Wonderland," September 2. Rate, $235 from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington; $230 from Pittsburg.

To Niagara Falls, excursion tickets good to return within ten days will be sold on July 22, August 5 and 19, September 4 and 16, at rate of $10 from Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington. These tickets include transportation only, and will permit of stop over within limit at Buffalo, Rochester, and Watkins on the return trip.

Two ten-days tours to Gettysburg, Luray Caverns, Natural Bridge, Virginia Hot Springs, Richmond, and Washington, September 28 and October 12. Rate, $65 from New York, $63 from Philadelphia.—(No. 683), Jun. 19 and July 10.

Reduced Rates to Milwaukee via Pennsylvania Railroad on Account of the National Educational Association.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company announces that on account of the meeting of the National Educational Association, at Milwaukee, Wis., July 6 to 9, it will sell continuous passage tickets from all points on its line east of Pittsburg and Erie to Milwaukee at rate of single fare for the round trip, plus $2.00 membership fee. Tickets will be sold and will be good going only on July 2, 3, and 4, and will be good to return, leaving Milwaukee July 10, 11, and 12, 1897, only, except that by depositing ticket with joint agent at Milwaukee on or before July 12, and on payment of fifty cents, an extension of return limit may be obtained to leave Milwaukee until August 31, 1897, inclusive.—(No. 681), Jun. 19-2t.

An Enjoyable Celebration.

"Independence Day" in this vicinity was celebrated in a thoroughly enjoyable and entirely appropriate manner, and the thousands of people who have already secured their summer homes by the sea, as well as the casual visitor, who fled to the shore to escape the heat and noise of the big cities, entered into the spirit of the occasion and apparently thoroughly appreciated the entertainment and exercises connected with the event.

Fortunately no serious accident occurred to mar the pleasure of the day, and the little tots, as well as their older brothers each managed to contribute their quota of patriotism through the medium of fire crackers and sky rockets without the suffering occasioned by scars and burns too often left as painful reminders of a "Glorious Fourth."

The managers of the exercises both at the Auditorium in Ocean Grove and the out of door entertainment in Asbury Park are to be congratulated upon the success which followed their efforts, and the smoothness with which their plans were carried out.

An Important Change.

The purchase of the Asbury Park and Belmar trolley line by the Atlantic Coast Company will undoubtedly result in a more efficient and satisfactory service over the first named route immediately, and will also have an important bearing on the future interests of the shore district. The Belmar Company, while giving fair service, has nevertheless been unable to measure up to its opportunities because of limited finances and continuous litigation. The Atlantic Coast Company will not be hampered by the first named difficulty, and its purchase of the Belmar plant will undoubtedly do away with the other trouble. The securing of the franchise for a road through the town of Belmar is but one step toward the completion of a project to connect by one electric road all the towns along the Monmouth coast from the Highlands to Point Pleasant, with possible laterals to Lakewood and Freehold. Such a system would mean additional prosperity for prompt and cheap methods of transportation are important factors in the future development of this important section of the state.

Good Work.

Owing to the constant watchfulness of the officials of Neptune Township many of the immoral resorts have been broken up, and the raid on others which was made this week will have a tendency to deter their operation in too open and flagrant a manner. For more than a year the Committee has been unwearied in its efforts to break up unlawful places and the fact that conviction follows almost every charge has had a wonderfully restraining influence on the disorderly element.

It is a satisfaction to know that the people in this vicinity aid the good work by giving evidence when called upon to do so, and a continuation of the work on present lines will soon rid the community of most of the objectional resorts.

Music at Ross' Pavilion.

For sometime past Mr. Ross has endeavored to gain the consent of the Ocean Grove Association to his having music on the pavilion adjoining his bathing establishment. The necessary permission was at last granted and Professor Nicholas Sannas' New York orchestra, which is composed of six pieces; two violins, base viol, clarionet, cornet and trombone was secured.

Concerts will be given in the pavilion every weekday from 10 to 11:45 A. M., 3 to 5 P. M. and 7:45 to 9:45 P. M. There will be no Sunday concerts.

MERCHANTS PLEAD.

Asbury Park's Business Men Plead the Cause of the Bicycle Rack Before Council's Committee.

On Thursday afternoon a number of the merchants of Asbury Park appeared before the Special Committee of Council, appointed to receive their protest, against the enforcement of the bicycle rack and sign ordinance, of which David Harvey, Jr., Samuel W. Kirkbride and Dr. Bruce S. Keator, are members. No definite promises were made, but the Councilmen seemed to appreciate the fact that the merchants were asking for something that the vast majority of citizens are heartily in sympathy with. As Councilman Jones said at a recent meeting of that Board, that he "did not believe a little paint on the racks made much difference and that in the light in which he saw the matter it would do harm to none and good to many." And it would seem that his fellow Councilmen are beginning to look at matters in the same light.

The reasons advanced against permitting the signs are that the numbers are constantly increasing, as is also the size of the sign; they are an obstruction and an impediment to travel as well as marring the appearance of the street; and finally, they are an opening wedge for signs of all kinds as no partiality should be shown.

Among the busines men present were: Dr. J. F. Davison, who argued: "The rack and sign as it exists, is small and neat, and is no detriment, but an advantage to strangers. I am in favor of their being restricted in size and even the racks themselves should be restricted."

And Captain Jonathan Minot, who said: "A foot space of five feet, should always be maintained but outside of this let the rack and signs be erected."

Grocer Samuel Leonard, argued against other forms of sign advertising, barber poles, awning signs, etc.

Harry Borden, suggested the number of racks be regulated by the frontage of the building.

V. V. LeRoy, stated that numerous persons had spoken to him condemning the order of Council, but none had spoken against the bicycle and sign rack.

Others who spoke were: Claude Wiseman, Howard Hulick and S. LeRoy. The Committee will make its report on Monday evening next.

Rehearsing the Oratorio.

Preparations are being made for the grand annual musical production which this year will be Mendlessohn's magnificent oratorio of "Elijah," unquestionably one of the most elaborate masterpieces known to musical history.

The festival chorus met for its first rehearsal on Thursday evening in St. Paul's M. E. church, Ocean Grove, when many members of last year's chorus were present as was also a number of new voices. Professor Tullie Morgan is conducting the rehearsals and is greatly encouraged with the very promising material he has to work with. Last year Dr. Walter Damrosch congratuated Professor Morgan upon his chorus and it is Mr. Morgan's intention this year to give the doctor the finest "Elijah" chorus he has ever had. Certainly the chorus will have ample opportunity to show itself in the dramatic music of this oratorio. The "Elijah" rehearsals will be held on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock in St. Paul's church.

It is intended also this year to make the Children's Festival a more elaborate affair than ever before and for this purpose Professor Morgan has asked for and hopes to secure at least 1500 voices. They will hold their rehearsals in the Young people's Temple on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Friday afternoons at 2 o'clock.

The Professor will, however, meet the children on Monday afternoon next at 2 o'clock when all children and young girls are asked to attend.

School Matters.

The Board of Education of Neptune Township held a meeting at the office of C. C. Clayton Tuesday evening, all of the members being in attendance except Mr. Washington White.

The Building Committee reported that owing to the difficulty experienced by contractors in making their estimates in time to be submitted at Tuesday evening's session, an extension of time has been granted until noon of Friday July 9th. This committee also reported that everything in relation to the new buildings was progressing favorably. The grading for the removal of the Ocean Grove school had been completed, and this building would likely be in its new location within a week.

Another meeting of the Board will be held this Friday evening, July 9th, when the bids for the construction of the Bradley Beach and Hamilton school houses will be opened and the contract probably awarded.

In relation to the sale of the bonds it is learned that a number of the bids had been filed. These bids will be opened on Saturday, July 10th. It is expected that a handsome premium beyond the par value will be offered for this issue of school bonds.

The Old Story Repeated.

A good thing bears repetition and as long as the Steinbach Company is in position to purchase the large quantities their three big stores enables them to, the public can always rely on securing the benefit, many new additional bargains have been received this week in which the public can share.—Adv.

PERSONAL AND PERTINENT.

George M. Carslake and family are down for the season at 46 Abbott avenue.

Mrs. Vreeland, of New York city, has returned to her summer home, 5 Ocean Pathway.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ake and family, and Miss Clara Young, from Newark, N. J., are spending some weeks at the Gem.

Miss Mary Bracken and Miss L. L. Smith, two young ladies from Hollidaysburg, Pa., are at the Gem for two weeks.

G. W. Biles, of Trenton, has returned with his family. They are comfortably settled in their cottage, 73 Stockton avenue.

Dr. Hanlon has brought his family from Pennington to spend the season in the Grove. They have opened their new cottage, 14 Ocean Pathway.

Among the Philadelphians who have returned to Ocean Grove for the summer are Mr. C. H. Hewitt and family who have opened their cottage, Southwest corner Delaware and Clarke avenues.

"The Wilmington," on Central avenue is entertaining Mr. and Mrs. John Addey, of Pittsburg, Charles R. Dunn, of Brooklyn, Mr. J. Bucham, Miss Kinney, Miss Matthews and Miss Britton, of Brooklyn.

Among the visitors to Ocean Grove during the past week, who made their quarters at the "Holly," were Eleanor Haynes, M. D., of Newark, Robert and William Simpson, of New York, S. H. McConnell and Miss M. C. Gelston, of Brooklyn.

Primary Methods.

The fourth annual session of the School of Primary Methods, which has been held under the auspices of the New Jersey Sunday School Association, at the Asbury Park Auditorium, commencing on Monday last and closing tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon. The school is under the direction of Rev. E. M. Ferguson, secretary of the association, who made the address of welcome. Miss Stroube, of Trenton, who conducted the class in blackboard sketching, was welcomed by a large and attentive class. Much keen interest was displayed in the series of lectures upon "Child Nature."

A delightful musical social was held Tuesday evening at which Mr. Beckel, of Newark, played several selections and Mrs. Beckel and Mrs. Van Benschoten sang a number of primary songs.

The State Executive Committee of the Association met Friday afternoon at the Commercial hotel to hear a report of the work of the school. The chairman is Mr. Joseph D. Doty, of Morristown.

The school will hold its last session to-morrow (Saturday) morning when Miss Cushman will deliver the last lecture of her course on "Child Nature" entitled "Dicipline."

Temperance Meetings.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of New York opened its twenty-third annual convention, or school of methods on Thursday and closed them last evening. These two day's sessions have been exceedingly interesting and beneficial. Mrs. Emma Bourne, president, delivered the address of welcome. An elaborate program was presented. In the absence of Mrs. A. C. Hammond, of Asbury Park, Mrs. Wood of the Morris County Union conducted the devotional services Thursday morning; Mrs. Emma Horner, of Camden, in the afternoon; Mrs. Hannah Garrison, of Cranbury, on Friday morning; Mrs. G. M. P. Wells, of Trenton, in the afternoon and Mrs. S. A. Austin, of Passaic, in the evening.

There were many excellent papers read and the half-hour concerts given by Mr. and Mrs. Beveridge, of Nebraska, were greatly enjoyed.

Trolleys Again Delayed.

Everything had been arranged to join the tracks of the Asbury Park and Belmar Railroad and those of the Atlantic Coast Company on Wednesday evening and shortly after 7 o'clock a gang of laborers with the necessary tools tore up the tracks opposite the main avenue gates.

The work was progressing finely, when Superintendent Charles ... Seaman, of the Belmar line appeared with a telegram from W. L. Dayton, the receiver of the road, which read as follows: "Our tracks must not be moved without order of the court." When it was shown to the foreman he ordered the work stopped.

Word was soon received from the Superintendent of the Atlantic Coast line instructing the men to replace the tracks in their former condition. Application will be made to the courts for the necessary permission.

The Secret

of our success as sellers of silver and plated ware is that we purchase only from manufacturers of established reputations and we satisfy ourselves with a profit that anyone would consider fair. Our jewelry stock shows to excellent advantage and is priced as low as any sensible buyer would care to go.

OWNERS

The Fire Opal,

Is the one stone that combines the glories of all the other precious gems. In it we have the flash of the diamond, the green of the emerald, the red of the ruby and the blue or the sapphire. From almost every standpoint it emits a different shade and is consequently the most popular stone of to-day.

Our stock of opals set in rings, lace pins and scarf pins, singly or in combination with other stones, are worth inspection and worth more than the prices we ask for them.

M. L. BAMMAN,

OUR GROCER,

Would respectfully announce that he is the only merchant in Monmouth County that handles the famous

"BLACK EARTH CREAMERY BUTTER."

Others have tried hard to get the same (we can prove this) but can not, as at this season of the year we use the entire out-put of this very large Creamery. We are determined to double the sales of butter for the next two months, and in order to accomplish this and for the purpose of introducing THIS FINE BUTTER, still more freely we will make BUTTER the principle feature of our

Cash Bargain Sale on Saturday, this Week, and will make the price so low that you will not be able to withstand the temptation to buy.

EGGS—This is another thing we are very particular about, and the fact that we have absolutely no complaints about them leads us to think that we are successful as to quality. The following New Jersey towns are some of the places we get them from: Englishtown, Monmouth Junction, Cranbury, Freehold, Frenchtown, White House Station, Etc.

Many more bargains will be offered on SATURDAY, and some of them will be made permanent for the season, viz.

Ten Cent Brand Condensed Milk,	6c Each
Cairns Scotch Jams, "the very best"	15c a Jar
An excellent barrel of Flour, at	$3.25
" " bag " at	50c
Sugar Cured Hams,	9 1-2cts a pound
Our Jamo Coffee "on Saturday only"	30c a pound
A Fine Carolina Rice at	5c a pound
Very Good Soap,	10 cakes for 25 cents

And many, many more things, in fact everything in the store at cut rate. But we have not lowered our standard of quality and gone into cheap business promiscuously; that would be committing suicide in our case. We merely wish to show that at BAMMAN'S you can buy the best of goods at nearly the same figure that you have to pay for cheap and nondescript articles at some places. If possible come in the morning so as to avoid the rush.

Respectfully your Grocer,

M. L. BAMMAN.

THE OPPOSITE SHORE.

Interesting Items Pertaining to Incidents and Individuals in Asbury Park.

—J. K. Rowan, of New York, who is summering at his Asbury avenue residence, was the victim of the inevitable Fourth of July accident on Monday last. Mr. Rowan was discharging a toy cannon when the miniature field piece burst, imbedding particles of powder in his forehead, cheeks and left eye.

—Carelessness was again the cause of a bicycle accident which might have proved a serious one. A little girl who was riding on Asbury avenue, Asbury Park, deliberately rode her wheel into a team of horses standing in front of Day's ice cream garden on Monday afternoon, and fell directly beneath the horses. Probably the coachman's presence of mind in rapidly backing his horses saved her from injury. Her wheel was slightly damaged.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bowman have come from Chicago for a sojourn by the sea. They have taken Lewis Taylor's cottage on Fourth avenue, Asbury Park.

—James J. Duffy has returned with his family from New York for another season by the sea. They have re-opened their cottage, 606 Asbury avenue, Asbury Park.

—The Atlantic Coast Electric Railroad Company has complied with the request of the City Council of Asbury Park and the Ocean Township officials and placed on all their trolley cars fenders of the latest and most improved pattern.

—Postmaster Dey, of Asbury Park, put the Sunday mail delivery system into operation last week. The entire expense of the delivery of the Sunday mails is paid by the hotel proprietors of that city, they appreciate the convenience the system is to their guests.

—A narrow escape from drowning was the experience of Miss Marie Muller, a guest at Hotel Hollywood, on Saturday afternoon while bathing at the foot of Asbury avenue. She was bathing with her cousin Herbert Cross, and was knocked down by a heavy breaker and carried out beyond her depth by the undertow. Cross recognized her predicament and went to her rescue. He brought her to shore where she soon recovered from her fright.

—"Brock," the house dog of the Wesley Engine Company, of Asbury Park, had a narrow escape from death on Saturday last. The dog-poisoning fiend who has been playing havoc with the canines of that city gave Brock a dose of strychnine. One of the members of the fire company discovered the dog in great distress and sent for Bloomfield Hulick, a clerk of the Madison Avenue Pharmacy, who gave the dog an antidote while waiting for Dr. P. A. Davidson. After some hard work the dog was declared to be out of danger.

Asbury Park Auditorium.

Rev. Madison C. Peters, of New York, will preach at all the regular services. Dr. Peters is one of the best known of Metropolitan preachers and lecturers. His subject next Sunday A. M. will be of universal interest. The lecture at 4 P. M. on "Hard Times and the Cause" should secure a large audience. The music, both local and instrumental, will be of a high order.

An A. M. (Dickinson College) with four years experience in a well-known school will give private lessons in Classics, German or Mathematics. Best references. Address "F." Times Office.—Adv. Jul 10 2t.

ASBURY PARK LOTS FOR SALE

THESE LOTS RANGE FROM ONE THOUSAND TO FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

ASBURY PARK RAILROAD STATION.

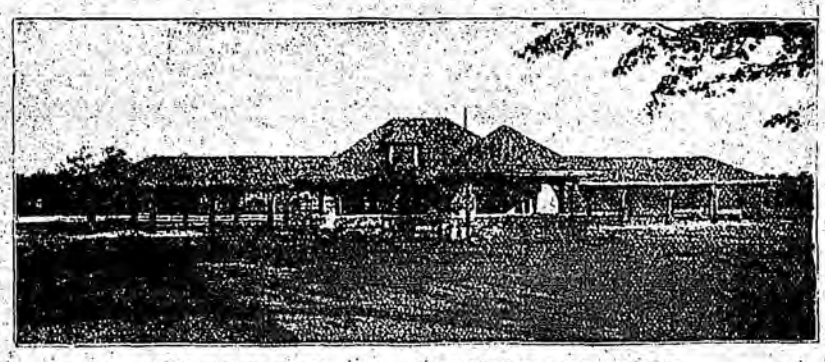

WESLEY LAKE

THE STREETS OF ASBURY PARK are one hundred feet broad—an advantage possessed by no other Seaside Resort on the New Jersey Coast. There will never be another Seaside Town in Monmouth County that will compare with the broad streets and open spaces such as shown on the map of ASBURY PARK. This assertion is based on the fact that all ocean front lands between Seabright and Barnegat are already laid out with streets averaging FIFTY PER CENT. LESS in width than those of ASBURY PARK, without such open spaces as ASBURY PARK. Where purchasers erect buildings,

THE WHOLE AMOUNT of PURCHASE MONEY MAY REMAIN on MORTGAGE.

GERMANY'S MONARCH.

Glitter and Display Attending His New Year's Reception.

The imperial couple of Germany receive their relatives in the black eagle chamber, a magnificent room, the walls of which are draped in cloth of silver, while a wonderful canvas, the great Leygebe chef d'œuvre, covers the ceiling. Generals and embassadors, intimates of his majesty, are admitted to the charmed circle.

Her majesty wears the crown, to which a long veil is attached that falls in graceful folds down to her court train, the latter measuring 16 yards. It is borne by some of the "highest ladies in the land," who in their turn employ pages to help them along. The dress material is of the heaviest kind and loaded down with embroidery of precious metals and stones. The empress, like the kaiser, wears the insignia of the high Prussian and Hohenzollern orders.

His majesty is attired in the so called "great general's uniform," with its profusion of gold embroidery covering the breast and cuffs. So costly is this embroidery that poor officers often hesitate to accept the honor it exemplifies.

The costumes of the princesses are not less showy, though their jewels are. The personages following in their train either wear military dress or the minister of state uniform, which is of the rococo type—silk frock coats and breeches, jabots, cocked hats, white stockings and pumps, with golden buckles. Chancellor von Caprivi alone is excused from masquerading after the fashion of the eighteenth century. Like his predecessor, Bismarck, he always appears at court in general's uniform.

At the chapel their majesties are received by the clergy in state, while simultaneously a boy choir of 200 picked voices opens the musical exercises, accompanied by a cornet corps. The religious ceremonies are short, the sermon not lasting more than seven or eight minutes.

The grand cour begins at once in the white hall. The emperor and empress, surrounded by the royal family, take their places on the throne, while the throng of notabilities pass in single file, formally offering congratulations. The emperor often rises to greet them with a hearty handshake. Among those thus distinguished are the chancellor and the venerable generals who have seen service in the field. The kaiserin is by etiquette forbidden to extend her hand to anybody on state occasions.

Meantime the thousands assembled outside await the moment when the kaiser will descend and walk to the armory, at the entrance to Unter den Linden. That is a spectacle which nobody who is anybody can afford to miss, especially as it occurs but once or twice a year. Presently the carriage gates of the palace are closed, the last four-in-hand rumbles away. Five minutes more of patience, and the great portals opposite the museum are thrown open, the sentinels and troops of regulars present arms, and the mounted "Schutzmann" thunder their last admonition: "There he comes! Hurrah! "Hoch! Hoch! Hoch!"

The kaiser, marching at the head of the column of generals and adjutants, looks almost tall in his high boots, helmet and the long, bluish gray overcoat with fur collar. He is not as beautiful as his father or as picturesque as his grandfather was, but is of strikingly dignified, honest and courageous appearance. He looks the typical German relieved of his natural heaviness. He can say sharp things and never shrinks from uttering the most audacious sentiments when least expected. That's why the Germans like him.

A Pleasant Prospect.

Wife—On Christmas day you came around with a nice sealskin sack, and now you come around on New Year's with nothing but a measly little pincushion.

Husband (gloomily)—And tomorrow I shall probably come around with a sheriff.

Appearances Are Deceptive.

"See that solid looking citizen over there? You'd never suspect that he was beating his way through the world?"

"I should say not."

"And yet he's a carpet cleaner."—Detroit Tribune.

A Well Known Villain.

Dark browed and threatening his eye,
He lives to gratify his hate,
He makes the little children cry
Whene'er his pearly molars grate,
He makes the hero dissipate,
The wife's blond tresses turn to gray,
Relentless he as e'er was fate—
The deep dyed villain in the play.

He slyly drugs the hero's rye,
Then steals the banker's famous plate
And deftly proves an alibi
Which well paid pals corroborate.
The hero's dragged to jail's estate,
The wife coils on for meager pay
And calls him "Traitor!" "Reprobate!"—
The deep dyed villain in the play.

He only laughs. "I hold new high.
The game is mine, though you may prate!"
But retribution soon draws nigh.
Betrayed by false confederate,
For prison he's a candidate.
But off the stage, I'm pleased to say,
He's not the least a profligate—
The deep dyed villain in the play.

ENVOI.

To prove this fact I might relate
Of how, with babe 'neath collie's sway,
He walked the floor this morn till eight—
The deep dyed villain in the play!

These tickets will be sold and good going July 14 and 15; good to return, leaving Toronto not earlier than July 19 nor later than July 24, 1897, and will be good only for continuous passage from Toronto on date stamped.

For further information apply to ticket agents.—(No. 700), July3-2t.

Well Satisfied with Ayer's Hair Vigor.

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray. I began using Ayer's Hair Vigor, and was so well satisfied with the results that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It requires only an occasional application of Hair Vigor to keep my hair of good color, to remove dandruff, to heal itching humors, and prevent the hair from falling out. I never hesitate to recommend Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. Haight, Avoca, Nebr.

AYER'S

WITH THE WHEELMEN.

Notes of Interest and Information for the Cycling Fraternity.

Membership, July 9, League of American Wheelmen: New, 1,122; total, 85,333. New Jersey Division: New, 35; total, 5,571.

1,834 renewals of membership in the L. A. W. were received last week. The N. J. Division had 113.

The semi-annual meeting of the Board of Officers of the New Jersey Division, L. A. W., will be held on Wednesday, July 14, at the Central Restaurant Parlors, Broad Street, Newark, at 5:30 p. m.

Cyclist are warned that interference with the apparatus of the Fire Department, or obstructing their passage through the streets, is punished in this State with heavy penalties. It would be supposed that no one but a fool would do this; but in Montclair recently a wheel-woman persisted in keeping just ahead of one of the companies, while on their way to a fire, so that at a turn, in order to prevent running over the woman, the apparatus did run into the curb, everybody was thrown off and the horse fell. There are not many departments that would have been so considerate.

Under the laws of this State a cyclist has just as much right on the streets as any other vehicle, and although at many times it is better not to claim these rights, but to give up more than half the road, especially when meeting a heavily loaded team, occasions arise when it is well to stand up for them. One of the watering-cart drivers in Montclair has repeatedly shown that he disregarded the cyclists' rights, and after warning by his employer and by persons observing his actions, the attention of the local L. A. W. officials was called to his case. On Saturday last he deliberately wet down two cyclists. Complaint was made before Recorder Ames and a warrant was issued, it being the first case of its kind, and there being no desire to punish the man, a reprimand was given and sentence suspended.

The N. J. Road Book has undoubtedly been received by all entitled to it. These members can secure many new applications by showing it to their cycling friends, who are not members of the league, and calling attention to the many benefits derived from the L. A. W. Applications blanks at this office.

The Government is to undertake a series of experiments in road making, as object lessons to the people. Samples improved roads will be built at New Brunswick, in this State, and at Geneva, New York, under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture, who is a practical, progressive man, and greatly interested in the improvement of public roads. It is marvelous that the good road movement has made such rapid progress. Only a few years ago Essex and Union Counties, in this State, started it at enormous expense. Then New Jersey as a State took the lead, followed by others. Now the National Government is instructing the people how to make permanent roads. But what is the use of making them if they are to be given over to trolley companies to be torn up and thrown into the gutter. (Elizabeth Journal).

It is hoped to make New Jersey's membership in the L. A. W. 10,000 by the end of the year. The first year the membership costs $2. For this the member gets a road book, the L. A. W. Bulletin for a year, reward of $25 offered for the bicycle if stolen, and paid by the league, free legal advice and service in case of accident on the road, and lots of other incidentals, including reduced hotel rates, etc. Besides this, the member is helping to pay his or her share of the expense incident to the protection of the interest of riders of the wheel, such as the passage of good road laws.

The bicycle Fete to be given at Long Branch on Saturday, July 17, promises to transcend in beauty and novel features any similar event in this country. The parade in the afternoon will be much larger than that of last year and the illuminations at night will present a picture of a veritable fairy land. The road extending from Long Branch to Pleasure Bay will be brilliantly lighted with torches of varied colored fires, and lanterns will be suspended from all the trees, fences and houses. The grounds at Pleasure Bay will be brilliantly illuminated with thousands of incandescent electric lights of different colors. A fine display of fireworks will be given both on land and water, and there will be lots of music for dancing. The New York Firemen's Bicycle Club will take down with them a complete working model of a steam fire engine mounted on bicycles, and give on wheels a regular fire drill. The bicycle corps of the Fifth Artillery Regiment of the United States Army will give a complete drill on bicycles according to the latest army tactics. A drill will also be given by the bicycle corps of the First Battery of Artillery of the National Guard. Many other interesting features are being arranged for the affair.

GEMS IN VERSE.

Bereaved.

Let me come in where you sit weeping. Aye,
Let me who have not any child to die
Weep with you for the little one whose love
I have known nothing of.

The little arms that slowly, slowly loosed
Their pressure round your neck, the hands you used
To kiss—such arms, such hands, I never know.
May I not weep with you?

Fain would I be of service, say something
Between the tears that would be comforting.
But, ah, so sadder than yourselves am I
Who have no child to die!

—James Whitcomb Riley.

Who Carries the Devil's Business On?

Men don't believe in the devil now as their fathers used to do.
They forced the door of the broadest creed to let his majesty through.
There isn't a print of his cloven foot, or a fiery dart from his bow
To be found in earth or air today, for the world has voted so.

But who is mixing the fatal draft that pables heart and brain
And loads the earth of each passing year with a hundred thousand slain?
Who blights the bloom of the land today with the fiery breath of hell
If the devil isn't and never was? Won't somebody rise and tell?

Who dogs the steps of the tolling saint and digs the pits for his feet?
Who sows the tares in the field of time wherever God sows his wheat?
The devil is voted not to be, and of course the thing is true.
But who is doing the kind of work the devil alone should do?

We are told he does not go about as a roaring lion now,
But whom shall we hold responsible for the everlasting row
To be heard in, home, in church, in state, to the earth's remotest bound,
If the devil by a unanimous vote, is nowhere to be found?

Won't somebody stop to the front forthwith and make his bow and show
How the frauds and the crimes of the day spring up? for surely we want to know.
The devil was fairly voted out, and of course the devil is gone,
But simple people would like to know who carries his business on.

The Four Sunbeams.

Four little sunbeams came earthward one day,
Shining and dancing along on their way.
Resolved that their course should be blest.
"Let us try," they all whispered, "some kindness to do,
Not seeking our own pleasures all the day through,
Then meet in the eve at the west."

One sunbeam ran in a low cottage door
And played "hide and seek" with a child on the floor
Till baby laughed loud in his glee
And chased with delight this strange playmate so bright,
The little hands grasping in vain for the light
That ever before them would flee.

One crept to a couch where an invalid lay
And brought him a dream of the sweet summer day,
Its bird song and beauty and bloom,
Till pain was forgotten and weary unrest,
And in fancy he roamed through the scenes he loved best,
Far from the dim, darkened room.

One stole to the heart of a girl that was sad
And loved and caressed her until she was glad
And lifted her white face again,
For love brings content to the lowliest lot
And finds something sweet in the dreariest spot
And lightens all labor and pain.

And one, where a little blind girl sat alone,
Not sharing the mirth of her playfellows, shone
On hands that were folded and pale
And kissed the poor eyes that had never known sight,
That never would gaze on the beautiful light
Till angels had lifted the veil.

At last, when the shadows of evening were falling
And the sun, their great father, his children was calling,
Four sunbeams sped into the west.
All said, "We have found that in seeking the pleasure
Of others we fill to the full our own measure."
Then softly they sank to their rest.

A Man of the World.

A man more kindly in his careless way
Than many who profess a higher creed,
Whose fickle love might change from day to day
And yet be faithful to a friend in need;
Whose manners covered through life's ons and ins,
Like charity, a multitude of sins:

A man of honor, too, as such things go;
Discreet and secret, qualities of use;
Selfish, but not self conscious; generous, slow
To anger, but most ready in excuse.
His wit and cleverness consisted not
So much in what he said as what he got.

His principles one might not quite commend,
And they were much too simple to mistake—
Never to turn his back upon a friend,
Never to lie but for a woman's sake,
To take the sweets that came within his way
And pay the price, if there were price to pay.

Idle, good looking, negatively wise,
Lazy in action, plausible in speech,
Favor he found in many women's eyes
And valued most that which was hard to reach.
Few are both true and tender, and he grew
In time a little tenderer than true.

Knowing much evil, half regretfully good,
As we regret a childish impulse lost,
Wearied with knowledge best not understood,
Bored with the disenchantment that it cost,
But in conclusion, with no feelings hid,
A gentleman, no matter what he did.

—Caroline Duer.

A Book by the Brook.

Give me a nook and a book
And let the proud world spin round;
Let it scramble by hook or by crook
For wealth or a name with a sound.
You are welcome to amble your ways,
Aspirers to place or to glory,
May big bells jangle your praise
And golden pens blazon your story.
For me, let me dwell in my nook,
Here by the curve of this brook,
That croons to the tune of my book,
Whose melody wafts me forever
On the waves of an unseen river.

—James Freeman Clarke.

What Life Is.

Stop and consider. Life is but a day,
A fragile dewdrop on its perilous way
From a tree's summit, a poor Indian's sleep
While his boat hastens to the monstrous steep
Of Montmorency. Why so sad a moan?
Life is the rose's hope while yet unblown,
The reading of an everchanging tale,
The light uplifting of a maiden's veil,
A pigeon tumbling in clear summer air,
A laughing schoolboy, without grief or care,
Riding the springy branches of an elm.

—Keats.

The world is just as hollow as an eggshell.
It is a surface, not a solid, round,
And all this boasted knowledge of the world
To me seems but to mean acquaintance with Low things or evil or indifferent.

—P. J. Bailey.

All private virtue is the public fund.
As that abounds the state decays or thrives.
Each should contribute to the general stock,
And who lends most is most his country's friend.
